The Morphology of the Modern French Verb Michael H. Gertner, 2017-12-04 No detailed description available for The Morphology of the Modern French Verb The morphology of the modern French verb Michael H. Gertner, 1980

Theoretical Morphology of the French Verb James Foley, 1979-01-01 The analysis of French verbs presented in this monograph is neither a synchronic nor a diachronic description but rather a theoretical achronic analysis whose goal is the explanation of the historical phonetic development of the French verb in terms of changes in the underlying abstract morphological forms One of the basic premises of this book is that the French superficial phonetic forms are not derived from the Latin superficial phonetic forms but that both are derived from abstract etymological forms The Morphology of the Modern French Verb Michael Howard Gertner, 1971 The Cognitive System of the French Verb John

Hewson, 1997-01-01 This study is based on the writings and teaching of Gustave Guillaume 1883 1960 one of the earliest proponents of what is today called Cognitive Linguistics It offers 1 a much needed presentation in English of Guillaume's view of the French system 2 the clarifications added by his successors and 3 much empirical detail added by the author from his own extensive experience with the material The word system in this work as explained in the very first chapter is intended in the Saussurian sense of a closed set of contrasts The method is first briefly applied to English in order to familiarize the reader with the methodological concepts and terminology and comparisons are made with the general outline of the French system The major sub systems of the French verb are analysed in the four central chapters 4 7 entitled Aspect Voice Tense Mood followed by a chapter on systemic comparison and two final chapters of detailed analysis of the verbal morphology and its relevance to the cognitive system The Vocabulary of Modern French Hilary Wise, 2003-10-04 The Vocabulary of Modern French provides a fresh insight into contemporary French With this book Hilary Wise offers the first comprehensive overview of the modern French vocabulary its historical sources formal organisation and social and stylistic functions Topics covered include external influences on the language word formation semantic change style and register In addition the author looks at the relationship between social and lexical change and examines attempts at intervention in the development of the language Each chapter is concluded by notes for further reading and by suggestions for project work which are designed to increase awareness of specific lexical phenomena and enable the student reader to use lexicographic databases of all kinds The Vocabulary of Modern French is an accessible and fascinating study of the relationship between a nation and its language as well as providing a key text for all students of modern French Language Use and Linguistic Structure. Proceedings of the Olomouc Linguistics Colloquium 2021 Janebová, Markéta, Emonds, Joseph, Veselovská, L., The latest volume of OLINCO proceedings is a selected set of papers that grew from presentations at OLINCO 2021 the international Olomouc Linguistics Colloquium held at Palacký University in June 2021 The nineteen papers collected here are unified by the topic of the colloquium Language Use and Linguistic Structure in that they all in one way or the other address the central questions of the study of human language They all use standard scientific methodology and theory and solidly researched empirical evidence in favor of formalized structural representations of the language system

The Structure of Modern Standard French Maj-Britt Mosegaard Hansen, 2016-04-16 This book is an advanced student's grammar of French that integrates traditional grammar with knowledge and insights from modern linguistics Maj Britt Mosegaard Hansen takes a structural approach to French grammar she provides clear descriptions of grammatical rules based explicitly on syntactic structure and places descriptive emphasis on instances where the grammatical structures of French differ from those used in corresponding contexts in English The first part of the book provides an introduction to French sentence structure before the following parts examine the grammar of verbs nominals particles and clauses and sentences The Structure of Modern Standard French will be a valuable resource for students of French at undergraduate level and beyond It assumes some prior knowledge of French grammar but is designed to be accessible to those with no background in linguistics

Proto-Romance Morphology Robert A. Hall, Jr., 1984-01-01 This volume deals with the reconstructed morphology of Proto Romance It is the third in a series by this author The first volume 1974 Elsevier deals with the external history of the Romance languages the conditions under which they developed were used and in some instances went out of use The second volume 1976 Elsevier treats the phonology of their common source Proto Romance Together these three volumes aim to cast light not only on Popular Latin speech by means of its surviving elements in the Romance languages but also on the extent to which the comparative method can be regarded as valid and useful in instances where no attestations are available for a language as closely related to the reconstructed proto language as high Classical Latin was to Proto Romance

Linguistic Reconstruction and Indo-European Syntax Paolo Ramat, 1980-01-01 The aim of the colloquium from which this volume derives was to bring together approaches from general linguistics and language reconstruction to show how these can benefit from each other Although the focus was on Indo European languages other language families were present in the discussion as typological insights may provide useful parallels to IE phenomena and problems At the core of the discussion was the methodological problem of induction vs deduction

The French Language Today Adrian Battye, Marie-Anne Hintze, Paul Rowlett, 2003-09-01 This book provides a comprehensive introduction to the French language from the perspective of modern linguistics Placing French within its social and historical context the authors highlight the complex diverse aspects of the language in a lively and accessible way A variety of topics is covered including the distribution of French in the world the historical development of standard French the sound system of French its sentence patterns and its stylistic and geographical variations Fully updated and revised this new edition places a greater emphasis on sociolinguistics To make the book more user friendly the following new features have been added a further reading guide at the end of each chapter a glossary of linguistic terms an expanded bibliography and index

Clause Structure and Language Change Adrian Battye, Ian G. Roberts, 1995 A collection of previously unpublished papers on a specific topic in historical linguistics clause structure These papers testify to the recent renewal of interest in diachronic syntax a consequence of the new emphasis on comparative issues in the principles and parameters framework Theoretical Morphology of the French Verb James Foley,1979-01-01 The analysis of French verbs presented in this monograph is neither a synchronic nor a diachronic description but rather a theoretical achronic analysis whose goal is the explanation of the historical phonetic development of the French verb in terms of changes in the underlying abstract morphological forms One of the basic premises of this book is that the French superficial phonetic forms are not derived from the Latin superficial phonetic forms but that both are derived from abstract etymological forms A History of the French Language Through Texts Wendy Ayres-Bennett,2005-06-27 This new history of the French language allows the reader to see how the language has evolved for themselves It combines texts and extracts with a readable and detailed commentary allowing the language to be viewed both synchronically and diachronically Core texts range from the ninth century to the present day highlight central features of the language whilst a range of shorter texts illustrate particular points The inclusion of non literary as well as literary texts serves to illustrate some of the many varieties of French whether in legal scientific epistolary administrative or liturgical or in more popular domains including attempts to represent spoken usage This is essential reading for the undergraduate student of French Prosodic Structure and French Morphophonology Stepehn J. Hannahs,2010-11-05 This study is an examination of morphophonology in terms of the interaction between morphological structure and phonological structure The goals of the study are to propose a coherent way of looking at morphophonology in structural terms while assuming a certain autonomy of the phonological and morphological components The study assumes the basic lexical postlexical dichotomy of Lexical Phonology but refers centrally to prosodic structure of the type proposed by Selkirk 1980 and further developed by among others Nespor Vogel 1986 rather than to level ordering The specific processes of French morphophonology examined here include certain aspects of prefixation and nasalization glide information closed syllable adjustment and penultimate schwa specification which are reanalysed in structural terms in contrast to analyses in the literature relying on level ordering Other aspects of French morphophonology argued in the literature to be rule governed such as Learned Backing are reanalysed in terms of stem suppletion The study thus supports Aronoff Sridhar 1987 Fabb 1988 Booji 1989 and others in arguing against level ordering while following the lead of Booji Lieber 1993 Inkelas 1989 and others in advocating the concurrent existence of both morphological and prosodic structure The Development of Grammar Esther Rinke,Tanja Kupisch,2011 This volume focuses on different aspects of language development The contributions are concerned with similarities and differences between first and second language acquisition the acquisition of sentence structure and functional categories cross linguistic influence in bilingual first language acquisition as well as the relation between language acquisition language contact and diachronic change The recurrent topic of the volume is the link between linguistic variation and the limitation of structural variability in the framework of a well defined theory of language

In this respect the volume opens up new perspectives for future research

Diachronic Studies on Information

Structure Gisella Ferraresi, Rosemarie Lühr, 2010-08-31 In the last few years a lively discussion on information packaging has arisen where traditional dichotomies Theme Rheme Topic Comment and Focus Background have been taken up again and partly reinterpreted The discussion is mainly being held in syntax but also in the fields of semantics and pragmatics Some remarkable progress has been made especially in Focus phonology Even if the role of information conveying and information packaging in the Indo-European languages was hinted at as early as in the classical studies of the Neogrammarians this field has remained neglected in today's historical linguistics This volume tries to partly cover this lack with a sample of papers which offer a various range of new empirical data analyzed from the point of view of information structure The novelty of the papers consists in the modern theoretical perspective from which the data are analyzed and in the various phenomena considered which range from the rise of clitic elements to word order change and verb movement Editorial board Dr habil Kai Alter Newcastle University Medical School Prof Dr Ulrike Demske Universität des Saarlandes Prof Dr Ewald Lang Humboldt Universität zu Berlin Prof Dr Rosemarie Lühr Friedrich Schiller Universität Jena Prof Dr Thomas Pechmann Universität Leipzig Prof em Dr Anita Steube Universität Leipzig Grammaticalization Jürgen

Klausenburger, 2000-03-15 In this monograph various aspects of the morphosyntactic evolution of the Romance languages are shown to interact in a theory of grammaticalization The study argues for the incorporation and subordination of inflectional morphology within a grammaticalization continuum constituting but a portion of the latter Parameters of natural morphology are seen as principles of grammaticalization but the reverse is also true rendering grammaticalization and natural morphology indistinguishable In the context of this theoretical framework Chapter 2 deals with Latin French and Italian verbal inflection focusing on universal and system dependent parameters of natural morphology In Chapter 3 a theory of grammaticalization is built on divergent elements including not only grammaticalization studies proper but also the perception production line of inquiry and typology and branching issues permitting the phasing out of the traditional synthesis analysis cycle Chapter 4 touches on nominal inflection in particular that of Old French and Rumanian the most revealing histories in the Romance domain Chapter 5 finally thoroughly discusses extant theoretical questions in grammaticalization prominently featuring the relevance of invisible hand explanations and the crucial role played by unidirectionality This study will be of interest to specialists in Romance and historical linguistics as well as morphological theory Linguistic Change in French Rebecca Posner, 1997 What is French and how has it changed over time Can we distinguish language history from historical linguistics and language change from linguistic change These questions are explored using copious material from the history of the French language concentrating on changes in the relatively modern period in particular Posner explains how change comes about and how changes at different levels of language interact and the role of sociological and ideological factors is set against the internal mechanisms that trigger change This work makes a substantial contribution to the theory of linguistic change as well as to discussion of the relationship between language and history in French speaking areas including Canada and French Creole speaking countries

Concreteness in Generative Phonology Bernard Tranel, 2024-06-04 Concreteness in Generative Phonology presents major topics in French phonology and morphology within the theoretical framework of generative grammar The concrete analyses advocated in Bernard Tranel's study constitute a radical departure from the abstract solutions proposed in previous generative treatments Abundant internal and external evidence anchors the concrete approach which is based on the recognition of the lexical nature of nasal vowels the absence of protective schwas and the necessity of a rule feature analysis for h aspiré words French phonology has been a well known subject of controversy both because French is an influential Indo European language and because the complexity of the data has made it difficult to decide certain issues This integrated account brings to bear data generally omitted from consideration demonstrates the critical role that substantive evidence plays as a tool of investigation and provides a data based comparison between two approaches within the same broad generative framework Taking advantage of certain theoretical developments Tranel presents each problem set of data alongside previous and logical possible analyses and clearly lays out the arguments for and against each analysis This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1981
