Écrire l'insignifiant, 2021-11-01 Le fait divers est un matériau courant de la fiction littéraire peut être même depuis quelques décennies d'un de ses enjeux majeurs Son apparente insignifiance consonne avec certaine légèreté postmoderne sa trivialité permet d'infinis jeux transgressifs Il se pourrait d'autre part que son abondance et sa banalisation mêmes le rendent exemplaire d'une cruauté et d'une barbarie secrètes de notre monde Il aurait été prématuré de proposer d'un panorama de ce champ thématique toujours en plein mouvement L'ventail ici proposé en fait au moins le tour y voient des classiques comme

Georges Perec Marguerite Yourcenar ou Raymond Queneau et des voix plus neuves comme celles de Jean Echenoz Olivier Rolin ou Fran ois Bon Jeanne Hyvrard, Wounded Witness Helen Vassallo, 2007 Critical responses to Jeanne Hyvrard have generally categorised her as a writer of critique féminine and/or autobiography due to salient features of her oeuvre such as the use of first person narrative a cyclic writing style and the quest for a female language Within these broader considerations however a recurrent motif throughout Hyvrard's writing is that of the body specifically the female body represented as suffering from different forms of physical mental illness and emotional social malaise It is this primordial aspect of Hyvrard's work on which surprisingly little critical analysis has been written that this monograph explores It has been demonstrated that Hyvrard's works can be studied as a unity as well as individually given that all of her texts form part of her wider theory While this theory is often referred to in abstract terms as pensée ronde pensée globale or pensée femme this study shows that it can be more specifically highlighted as a theory of dis-ease i.e. the intertwining of physical malady and social malaise medical terms and metaphor and particularly as a social theory of the dis-eased female body
