Allan Smith,1994-09-15 Are Canadians so influenced by the United States that they lack a distinct identity This question has preoccupied Canadians and Canadianists for years Canada An American Nation is a compilation of Allan Smith s essays on the influence of American society on Canadian identity Based on the notion that Canada can best be understood if viewed in relation to the United States the book explores the ways in which American influences have challenged Canada s cultural independence and asks whether Canada has maintained its own identity Contemporary American Speeches Richard L. Johannesen,2000 Contains a collection of transcripts of contemporary American speeches providing brief biographical information on the author of each speech as well as critical and historical context Includes CD ROM with forty two significant speeches Shifting Boundaries Tim Schouls,2011-11-01 Canada is often called a pluralist state but few commentators view Aboriginal self government from the perspective of political pluralism Instead Aboriginal identity is framed in terms of cultural and national traits while self government is taken to represent an Aboriginal desire to protect those traits Shifting Boundaries challenges this view arguing that it fosters a woefully incomplete understanding of the politics of self government Taking the position that a relational theory of pluralism offers a more accurate interpretation Tim Schouls contends that self government is better understood when an identification perspective on Aboriginal identity is adopted instead of a cultural or national one He shows that self government is not about preserving cultural and national differences as goods in and of themselves but rather is about equalizing current imbalances in power to allow Aboriginal peoples to construct their own identities In focusing on relational pluralism Shifting Boundaries adds an important perspective to existing theoretical approaches to Aboriginal self government It will appeal to academics students and policy analysts interested in Aboriginal governance cultural studies
