Who Got the Camera? Eric Harvey, 2021-10-05 Reality first appeared in the late 1980s in the sense not of real life but rather of the TV entertainment genre inaugurated by shows such as Cops and America's Most Wanted the daytime gabfests of Geraldo Oprah and Donahue and the tabloid news of A Current Affair In a bracing work of cultural criticism Eric Harvey argues that reality TV emerged in dialog with another kind of entertainment that served as its foil while borrowing its techniques gangsta rap Or as legendary performers Ice Cube and Ice T called it reality rap Reality rap and reality TV were components of a cultural revolution that redefined popular entertainment as a truth telling medium Reality entertainment borrowed journalistic tropes but was undiluted by the caveats and context that journalism demanded While N.W.A.'s Fuck tha Police countered Cops vision of Black lives in America the reality rappers who emerged in that group's wake such as Snoop Doggy Dogg and Tupac Shakur embraced reality's visceral tabloid sensationalism using the media's obsession with Black criminality to collapse the distinction between image and truth Reality TV and reality rap nurtured the world we live in now where politics and basic facts don't feel real until they have been translated into mass mediated entertainment Painting by Numbers Vitaly Komar, Aleksandr Melamid, 1999 This book complements a national traveling exhibition of Komar and Melamid's interpretation of the most wanted and most unwanted paintings of fourteen countries titled The People's Choice organized and circulated by ICI Independent Curators International touring to museums from September 1998 to December 2000 General farm bill of 1981, 1981
