Golden Thoughts on Mother, Home, and Heaven Theodore L. Cuyler, 2016-09-05 Excerpt from Golden Thoughts on Mother Home and Heaven From Poetic and Prose Literature of All Ages and All Lands With an Introduction As a citizen of Brooklyn I am proud of the fact that in our chief public park there stands a monument to the author of Home sweet Home Those immortal lines have made delicious music by many an humble fireside They have inspired encouragement under many a lowly roof But John Howard Payne struck a deeper truth than he may have intended when he wrote there is no place like home This applies to something more enduring than the heart's attachment to the spot which sheltered our childhood For all our after lives and our eternal destinies for shaping the character forming the habits determining the choice for good or evil and for the salvation or ruin of the soul there is no place like home Nothing is so dangerous and damning as a bad home Nothing is so effective in fitting us for usefulness here and for heaven here after as a pure happy Christ lighted home for like heaven the lamb is the light thereof About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
