Repair the World Alexandre Gefen, 2024-08-19 Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of

exorcism empathy reparation testimony commemoration existential renewal and ethical or political connectivity Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses Gefen models a much needed style of criticism interdisciplinary pragmatic relational that comes to grips with their importance Rita Felski the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia USA In an era where self help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher s lists in France it s tempting some fifty years after post structuralism s heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative reparative act In the best instances authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society from health and social workers to skilled laborers journalists and educators it s a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real Harnessing sources in affect theory trauma studies ethics and cognitive science Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own reminding us that the notion of literature as autonomous object was itself a historical construct in short an ideology Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others and it s upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism Derek Schilling Professor of French Director of the Centre Louis Marin Department of Modern Languages and Literatures Johns Hopkins University USA Alexandre Gefen s wide ranging thought provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature s effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre s post war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature s mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano s Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen s reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre s political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK

Counseling Youth Tina (A.C.) Besley,2019-04-09 Using the work of Foucault this study examines changing notions of the self and identity and how psychological and sociological discourses have conceptualized and constituted adolescence youth as the primary client in school counseling Case studies of mental hygiene films in the United States and a moral panic in New Zealand are used to examine how youth were morally constituted in the postwar period a time when guidance counseling emerged in Western countries such as the United States the United Kingdom Australia Canada and New Zealand The author uses Foucault's notion of governmentality to critically examine how counseling professionalized itself as a disciplinary body This book is targeted at practicing counselors counseling students and counselor theoreticians It will also find audiences with graduate students in youth studies and those interested in the work and applications of Michel Foucault One of the best things that I can say about this book is that it had a personal impact It nudged me into re thinking various aspects of my work It is a book that achieves a rare thing It talks about counseling young people without getting so caught up in the detail of practice that it loses sight of the big picture I believe that school counselors who engage with this work will find that their practice is never quite the same again They will be invited to think about things they have previously taken for granted and to listen to young people in new ways John Winslade Coordinator of Counselor Education California State University San Bernardino Co Author of Narrative Counseling in Schools Powerful Brief Uncovering Spiritual Narratives Suzanne M. Coyle, 2014-04-01 All cultures use story as a way to make sense of life experiences Yet for many particularly in the western world only a single story line is seen as the real truth Using narrative therapy as a caregiving approach can help individuals uncover multilayered narratives that are far more complex and liberating Coyle contends that not only are these more complex narratives more helpful in giving our lives meaning they also critique the cultural discourses in which they arose Drawing on both theological approaches and real life experiences Coyle creates a contextual pastoral theology that helps caregivers find the power of God in people's stories Using Expressive Arts to Work with Mind, Body and Emotions Helen Wilson, Mark Pearson, 2009-08-15 This book combines theory research and activities to produce practical suggestions for enhancing client participation in the therapy process It surveys the literature on art therapy somatic approaches emotion activating models use of music writing and dreamwork and the implications of the new findings in neuroscience EBOOK: Introducing Qualitative Research in Psychology 4e Carla Willig, 2021-11-16 Introducing Qualitative Research in Psychology is a vital resource for students new to qualitative psychology It explains when each qualitative research method should be used the procedures and techniques involved and any limitations associated with such research Throughout the new edition material has been re organized and updated to reflect developments in the field while Carla Willig's style of writing popular with students and lecturers alike remains unchanged Key features of the new edition include Two new chapters one on metasynthesis and one on pluralism in qualitative research A broadening the Visual Methodologies chapter to include other non linguistic methods of data collection that engage with the physical environment such as the walking interview and object elicitation Information and analysis on innovative dissemination methods such as performances and exhibitions Expanded coverage of the core question What makes qualitative research research including clear explanations of the key tenets of the scientific method But it's not as simple as all that boxes at the end of each chapter where more complex issues theoretical critiques and conceptual challenges are raised This title is supported by an Online Learning Centre which includes an array of extra resources for both students and instructors This book is a vital resource and a valuable reference both for those new to research and for those looking to further develop their skills and knowledge of qualitative research in psychology Nollaig Frost Adjunct Professor School of Applied Psychology University College Cork Ireland This exceptionally well written text deserves a place in every psychology researcher s toolkit regardless of their career stage Benjamin Gardner Reader in Social Psychology King s College London UK Readers of this text will find it to be accessible and comprehensive It will enable many people to become confident in conducting their own qualitative research Alex Bridger Senior Lecturer in Critical Social Psychology University of Huddersfield UK Carla Willig is Professor of Psychology at City University of London UK She is the author of numerous bestselling books for Psychology students and is widely admired for her friendly practical approach to writing and to teaching
