Handbook of Quality Assurance for University Teaching Roger Ellis, Elaine Hogard, 2018-07-03 This practical and authoritative handbook provides a comprehensive overview of the issues and approaches to assuring quality in university teaching. Including contributions from major international figures, the book contains a wealth of ideas and practical advice to help universities commit to quality in teaching and offers insights into how the topics raised can be directly applied. The book initially identifies some of the key issues surrounding the topic such as the evidence based identification of teaching quality, the training of university lecturers and faculty, external and internal quality assurance, the tension between professional autonomy and governmental regulation, and the involvement of students in developing quality. It then moves on to present ideas and initiatives to address these problems, tackling the subject through four sections: Assuring Quality (questioning what quality assurance means and how it might be practised), Identifying Quality (examining what knowledge exists at present and how it might be further researched), Developing Quality (investigating the development of staff through teacher training and appraisal), and Case Studies of Quality Assurance (reviewing six case studies of quality assurance in a range of contrasting subjects including the professional subjects of Medicine, Nursing, and Teacher Training, which are also addressed systemically in the first section). Full of practical advice, Handbook of Quality Assurance for University Teaching is an invaluable and unique resource for Faculty, Subject Leaders, University Administrators, and Quality Assessors.

The Rise of Quality Assurance in Asian Higher Education Mahsood Shah, Quyen T.N. Do, 2017-05-25 The Rise of Quality Assurance in Asian Higher Education provides information on the well researched quality assurance frameworks, processes, standards, and internal and external monitoring that have taken place around the globe. However, in Asia, where higher education has witnessed rapid growth and is also contributing significantly to international education, which is benefited by many developed countries, this data has not been readily available. In recent years, governments in Asia have made significant investment with an aim of creating education hubs to ensure that higher education is internationally competitive. This book examines the developments in higher education quality assurance in eleven Asian countries, providing systematic insights into national quality assurance arrangements and also examining the different approaches governments in Asia have implemented based on social and economic contexts. Includes chapters from eleven countries that examine quality assurance arrangements. Explores untold case studies of countries such as Mongolia, Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, Cambodia, Indonesia, Thailand, Korea, India, and others. Examines higher education context, quality assurance arrangements, effectiveness, challenges, and international quality assurance in Asia. Offers contributions from leading scholars and practitioners who are working in higher education in Asia. Provides engagement for research students.

Quality Assurance in Higher Education Roger Brown, 2004-02-19 This text provides an analytical account of the changes to quality assurance of

UK universities and colleges from 1992 to 2003 Higher Education Quality Assurance in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Nicolas Materu, 2007 This report assesses the status and practice of higher education quality assurance in Sub Sahara Africa focusing on degree granting tertiary institutions A main finding is that structured national level quality assurance processes in African higher education are a very recent phenomenon and that most countries face major capacity constraints Only about a third of them have established structured national quality assurance mechanism often only as recently as during the last ten years Activities differ in their scope and rigor ranging from simple licensing of institutions by the minister responsible for higher education to comprehensive system wide program accreditation and ranking of institutions Within institutions of higher learning self assessment and academic audits are gradually being adopted to supplement traditional quality assurance methods However knowledge about and experience with self assessments are limited The main challenges to quality assurance system in Africa are cost and human capacity requirements For countries with large tertiary systems the report recommends institutional rather than program accreditation as a cost effective option However where tertiary systems are small and underdeveloped a less formal self assessment for each institution may be necessary until the capacity could be strengthened to support a more formal national quality assurance agency in the long run Quality Assurance in Higher Education

Don F. Westerheijden, Bjorn Stensaker, Maria Joao Rosa, 2007-09-04 By bringing together leading experts on quality assurance in higher education from seven countries from Europe the USA and South Africa this volume intends to go several steps further than most publications on quality assurance First it brings together views from micro to macro levels in the multi actor space showing how quality assurance impacts the higher education system throughout Second it links quality assurance solidly to issues of regulation translation rather than mechanical implementation and transformation instead of being only focused on quality assurance as a single policy instrument Third it uses this broad range of research insights to criticize current practices explaining for instance why sometimes people have difficulty in tracing any concrete effects of all initiatives taken in this area Finally the book offers proposals for better focusing quality assurance in the future to address institutional challenges better The general purpose of the book then is to give an engaged academic reflection on how quality assurance is embedded in higher education and in a dynamic way to assess its impacts and potential improvements

Quality Assurance in Higher Education David Lim, 2020-07-24 This title was first published in 2001 Universities in developing countries have followed their counterparts in developed countries and adopted quality assurance to improve the quality of their activities This text examines the wisdom of such a move when many of the conditions necessary for its success are not present It concludes that quality assurance can be useful in developing countries because it shows how a university's seemingly disparate activities are related to one another to serve a common goal and how the quality of these can best be improved by using an integrated approach Quality assurance also provides more focus and direction to the work of the traditional university system However it must be modified to suit the conditions prevailing in developing countries by being simple in design modest in expectations and realistic in requirements

Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e-Learning Insung Jung,Colin Latchem,2012-04-05 Quality assurance QA in open and distance learning ODL can be a contentious issue Some argue that it should be judged by the same criteria and methods as face to face education while others claim that it is so different in its organization enrolments and operations that conventional QA mechanisms cannot apply Some advocate the use of specific guidelines and standards for e learning others believe that regardless of the technology the basic principles of quality teaching and learning should apply Providers who have enjoyed freedom from external scrutiny may resist attempts at external regulation and auditing and look upon QA as yet another imposition of corporatization and bureaucracy on education Others see it as a means of establishing a culture of quality self reflection and self improvement There is little research based literature to guide policy makers managers and practitioners in applying QA in education and training to ensure the right balance is found between accountability and autonomy as well as assuring quality for the time and costs involved In this respect Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e Learning is a book that is long overdue It explains what is involved in QA and accreditation in education It describes and analyzes applications of these practices in open distance dual mode and conventional universities throughout Europe North America Africa and the Asia Pacific looking at open schooling e learning in conventional schools non formal adult and
