Fostering Meaningful Learning Experiences Through Student Engagement Ktoridou, Despo, Doukanari, Elli, Eteokleous, Nikleia, 2020-10-02 Educators are continuously seeking ways to engage their students in active learning processes and are faced with challenges that include engaging students in learning activities promoting meaningful learning experiences and providing effective experiences for every student. Studies that investigate instructors' experiences are limited since more focus is given to students. Future research calls for teachers' innovative contributions in introducing new strategies and teaching approaches to further involve students, increase student attendance in online sessions, and employ a variety of technological tools. Fostering Meaningful Learning Experiences Through Student Engagement is an essential reference source for the latest scholarly information on curriculum development, instructional design, and pedagogical methods for fostering student engagement learning initiatives. The book examines engagement and meaningful learning techniques in both face-to-face and online instruction. Covering topics that include active learning, language learning, teacher experiences, and teacher-student relationships, this book is ideally designed for teachers, instructional designers, curriculum developers, academicians, researchers, professionals, and students that believe that stronger or improved student engagement should be their instructional objectives and wish to engage students in learning activities that promote meaningful learning experiences.

Quality and Safety in Nursing Gwen Sherwood, Jane Barnsteiner, 2021-12-13 Quality and Safety in Nursing First published in 2012, Quality and Safety in Nursing was the first volume of its kind to explore the role of the nursing community in improving quality of care and patient safety. Now in its third edition, this comprehensive resource remains essential reading for all those involved in equipping current and future nurses with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes (KSAs) needed to deliver exceptional care. The new edition begins with an overview of the Quality and Safety Education for Nurses (QSEN) initiative and its origins in the Future of Nursing report published in 2010, before defining each of the six QSEN competencies: patient-centered care, teamwork and collaboration, evidence-based practice, quality improvement, safety, and informatics. The content incorporates the 2020-2030 Future of Nursing recommendations as well as the 2021 AACN Essentials for Education competencies. Finally, the text presents both teaching and clinical application strategies for building and implementing a culture of quality and safety across settings. Integrates QSEN competencies in simulation and provides new instructional and practice approaches. Features redesigned chapters for reimagining classroom and clinical learning, applying reflective practices, and transforming education and practice through interprofessional teamwork. Provides new case studies and personal accounts highlighting key principles and their application in real-world scenarios. Contains new and expanded material on assessment and evaluation, transition to practice, leadership and management, and primary outpatient and ambulatory care. Offers a new discussion of future research directions and global perspectives on quality and safety. Quality and Safety in Nursing Third Edition is required reading for graduate students in nursing education programs, faculty in

Facility Management Practices Solomon Pelumi Akinbogun,Clinton Ohis Aigbavboa,Oluwaseun Tope Akinbogun,2024-10-30 This book explores the management of public facilities and the wider issues around it with examples from educational health facilities and public spaces Human activities in every economy are require facilities that must be effectively managed for optimal performance Facility management in the public and private sector in developing countries requires close examination to explain the reasons for things go wrong From the economist s point of view some facilities are better provided by public sector to maintain inclusivity and protect the social welfare of vulnerable people For example in Nigeria a good number of public facilities such as schools and health facilities are under performing because of poor and ineffective management This provides an opportunity for the private sector However a majority of the population remains deprived of access because of lack of affordability The research in this book was carried out to assess what could be done to ensure that essential services are not left entirely in the private sector and scope out possible synergies between the public and private The book is useful to policy makers at all levels of the public and private sectors Advances and New Perspectives in Higher Education Quality Maria Esteban,Ana B. Bernardo,Ellian Tuero Herrero,Joana R. Casanova,Antonio Cervero,2024-04-22 The changes that have occurred in today s society require Higher Education to be highly efficient in the academic and professional preparation of young people who enter university For that reason universities around the globe have been advocating in recent years for an improvement in the quality of teaching learning processes As an example the World University Consortium 2023 currently presents among its most urgent and priority objectives the identification of the best evaluative practices of the educational processes that are carried out at the University as well as the recognition of the actions aimed at improving educational processes based on scientific evidence In this way it seeks to distinguish all those educational actions that are at the forefront going from actions at the micro level such as individual teaching practices in the classroom such as the application of the flipped classroom or the use of augmented reality up to actions taken at the macro level such as those proposed in the Horizon Europe 2020 strategy What Is the Role for Effective Pedagogy In Contemporary Higher Education? Carl Senior,Dilly Fung,Christopher Howard, Rowena Senior,2018-10-05 The number of students entering into Higher Education HE continues to grow and as such the sector now stands at the threshold of a major shift in its philosophy No longer does the academic prerogative belong to a generation who valued learning for the sake of enlightenment Many contemporary undergraduate students enter their programmes of study with a primary desire to improve their position on the subsequent employability market Universities have been quick to meet this need and institutional offerings have followed suit enabling students to gain experience in a range of additional and subsidiary programmes that focus on the provision of value added benefits Here students are encouraged to develop expertise in a range of topics from entrepreneurship and enterprise to intellectual property and even leadership skills The first round of casualties that fall victim to such a shift are those programmes of study embedded within the humanities As is evidenced by the falling numbers of enrolling students the incoming cohort is less likely now to engage with such programmes while participation in programmes that have a clear employability component has never been so high To ensure that the HE sector continues to enable graduates to become effective citizens who contribute to the betterment of society a range of general questions need to be addressed What does it mean to be an authentic university in the modern era What are the real student expectations of HE and how are education providers framing and meeting these expectations Is a new breed of academic leadership needed that will both meet the expectations of the students and guide the aspirations of academic staff Finally do we need an opportunity to reflect on the effective design and delivery of curriculum Should the undergraduate student body play more of a role in the design of the curriculum or should the undergraduate student body play more of a role in the design of the curriculum or should they remain the recipients of a programme that has been designed by subject specialists The scope of this book is wide but it brings the design and delivery of higher education programmes under the empirical gaze of educational psychology That is to say all chapters centre on the impact of higher educational programmes on the student teacher relationship student learning achievement and identity It is therefore crucial to explore the psychological impact of higher education institutions and how these can then be used to inform innovative educational practice and policy
