Improving Intelligence Analysis Stephen Marrin, 2012-08-21 This book on intelligence analysis written by intelligence expert Dr Stephen Marrin argues that scholarship can play a valuable role in improving intelligence analysis Improving intelligence analysis requires bridging the gap between scholarship and practice Compared to the more established academic disciplines of political science and international relations intelligence studies scholarship is generally quite relevant to practice Yet a substantial gap exists nonetheless Even though there are many intelligence analysts very few of them are aware of the various writings on intelligence analysis which could help them improve their own processes and products If the gap between scholarship and practice were to be bridged practitioners would be able to access and exploit the literature in order to acquire new ways to think about frame conceptualize and improve the analytic process and the resulting product This volume contributes to the broader discussion regarding mechanisms and methods for improving intelligence analysis processes and products It synthesizes these articles into a coherent whole linking them together through common themes and emphasizes the broader vision of intelligence analysis in the introduction and conclusion chapters The book will be of great interest to students of intelligence studies strategic studies US national security US foreign policy security studies and political science in general as well as professional intelligence analysts and managers

Managing Political Risk Assessment Stephen J. Kobrin, 2024-03-29 The accurate assessment of political risk can make the difference between success and failure for a multinational corporation which must keep corporate objectives in sight while operating in a large number of widely varying environments While environmental or political risk assessment has become an explicit function in many firms and is inherent in all foreign investment the uncertainties of foreign political environments continue to pose critical problems for managers In Managing Political Risk Assessment Stephen J Kobrin describes and analyzes the techniques of political risk assessment employed by U S multinationals His analysis draws on organizational theory economics political science and international relations The study reveals that those charged with political risk assessment have often not been fully integrated into the core of the managerial process information from subsidiaries is often biased and the flow of data is poorly controlled As a result virtually all firms experience difficulties in using environmental assessment in planning and making decisions Kobrin persuasively argues that the thorough integration of the assessment function into the managerial process is a necessary step as the need for political risk assessment intensifies with the increased interaction between international business and its social and political surroundings Political scientists institutional economists managers and students and teachers of international business will all profit from Kobrin s excellent synthesis of knowledge in this area of scholarly interest This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1982

Constructing Cassandra analyzes the intelligence failures at the CIA that resulted in four key strategic surprises experienced by the US the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962 the Iranian revolution of 1978 the collapse of the USSR in 1991 and the 9 11 terrorist attacks surprises still play out today in U S policy Although there has been no shortage of studies exploring how intelligence failures can happen none of them have been able to provide a unified understanding of the phenomenon To correct that omission this book brings culture and identity to the foreground to present a unified model of strategic surprise one that focuses on the internal make up the CIA and takes seriously those Cassandras who offered warnings but were ignored This systematic exploration of the sources of the CIA s intelligence failures points to ways to prevent future strategic surprises Expert-generated Data Gerald W. Hopple,2020-12-17 In the aftermath of the explosion of hard data sets in the 1960s for the study of international relations there has been a movement back toward the use of various experts to quantify the more elusive aspects of the international situation These aspects range from the beliefs and perceptions of decision makers to the array of stresses that confront nation states both internally and externally This volume reflects the most recent and innovative work in the use of data generated by academic policy and other experts The authors discuss expert generated data as a means of data making data refinement and policy analysis They present all of the major expert based approaches and offer a variety of methodological and substantive applications Intelligence Analysis in Theater Joint Intelligence Centers Robert D. Folker, 2000 A growing number of JMIC students have begun to incorporate replicable research design into their theses This distillation of Master Sergeant Folker s theses shows how fruitful this approach can be By taking advantage of on site research funds available from the College he managed in brief visits to four Unified Command Joint Intelligence Centers to carry out a controlled experiment to measure the impact of analyst familiarity with and use of one structured analytic technique hypothesis testing His findings if corroborated by follow on studies could have a substantial impact on Intelligence Community analytical practices and even some influence on how senior policy officials react to analytical products Managers of analytical personnel might also note that structured methods would appear from this study of non specialized joint intelligence center analysts to be useful to specialized analysts who may be required to move beyond their areas of deep expertise to cover new or unfamiliar assignments
