Reel Rebels: the London Film-Makers' Co-Operative 1966 to 1996 Joy I. Payne, 2015-07-17 The London FilmMakers Cooperative was founded in 1966 by a group of artists who sought to explore the possibilities of the moving image whilst maintaining autonomy over the production distribution and exhibition of their work Although their films were not overtly political artists nevertheless expressed their political attitudes by creating nonnarrative films thereby rejecting conventional narrative structures associated with mainstream commercial cinema which they perceived as supporting the dominant ideology in society A return to narrative in the 1980s coincided with the introduction of British Art Cinema and the art house films of Derek Jarman Peter Greenaway and Sally Potter all of whom made experimental films in the early days of the London Co op

Darcy Lange, Videography as Social Practice Mercedes Vicente, 2023-11-20 The Videography of Darcy Lange is a critical monograph of a pivotal figure in early analogue video. Trained as a sculptor at the Royal College of Art, Lange developed a socially engaged video practice with remarkable studies of people at work in industrial farming and teaching contexts that drew from conceptual art, social documentary, and structuralist filmmaking. Lange saw in portable video a democratic tool for communication and social transformation, continuing the legacy of the revolutionary avant-garde projects that merged art with social life and turned audiences into producers. This book follows Lange's trajectory from his early observational studies to the crisis of representation and socially engaged video and activism as it is shaped by and resists the artistic, cultural, and political preoccupations of the 1970s and 1980s. It strikes a balance between being a monographic account providing a close analysis of Lange's oeuvre and drawing from unpublished archival materials, a sort of catalogue raisonné, whilst maintaining a breadth with theoretical discourses around the themes of labour and class, education and indigenous struggles central to his work. The book's frameworks of Conceptual Art, structuralist and ethnographic film theory, social documentary, and the critique of representation, video as social practice, and the notion of feedback, participatory, socially engaged art, and postcolonial and indigenous theory expand our understanding of video outside the predominant structuralist tendencies. Lange's transnational and nomadic career introduces notions of alterity and challenges nationalistic accounts that excluded him in the past.

Community Filmmaking Sarita Malik, Caroline Chapain, Roberta Comunian, 2017-04-28 This book examines the role of community filmmaking in society and its connection with issues of cultural diversity, innovation, policy, and practice in various places. Deploying a range of examples from Europe, North America, Australia, and Hong Kong, the chapters show that film emerging from outside the mainstream film industries and within community contexts can lead to innovation in terms of both content and processes and a better representation of the cultural diversity of a range of communities and places. The book aims to situate the community filmmaker as the central node in the complex network of relationships between diverse communities, funding bodies, policy, and the film industries.
