Cheetham, 2017-07-05 Arguing in favour of renewed critical attention to the nation as a category in art history this study examines the intertwining of art theory national identity and art production in Britain from the early eighteenth century to the present day The book provides the first sustained account of artwriting in the British context over the full extent of its development and includes new analyses of such central figures as Hogarth Reynolds Gilpin Ruskin Roger Fry Herbert Read Art Language Peter Fuller and Rasheed Araeen Mark A Cheetham also explores how the Englishing of art theory which came about despite the longstanding occlusion of the intellectual and theoretical in British culture did not take place or have effects exclusively in Britain Theory has always travelled with art and vice versa Using the frequently resurgent discourse of cosmopolitanism as a frame for his discourse Cheetham asks whether English traditions of artwriting have been judged inappropriately according to imported criteria of what theory is and does This book demonstrates that artwriting in the English tradition has not been sufficiently studied and that English Art Theory is not an oxymoron Such concerns resonate today beyond academe and the art world in the many heated discussions of resurgent Englishness Contemporary British Artists of African Descent and the Unburdening of a Generation Monique Kerman, 2017-10-27 This book explores the notable roles that contemporary British artists of African descent have played in the multicultural context of postwar Britain In four key case studies Magdalene Odundo Veronica Ryan Mary Evans and Maria Amidu Monique Kerman charts their impact through analysis of works activities and exhibitions The author elucidates each of the artists creative response to their unique experience and examines how their work engages with issues of history identity diaspora and the distillation of diverse cultural sources The study also includes a comparative discussion of art broadly defined as black British in order to question assumptions concerning racial and ethnic identities that the artists often negotiate through their works particularly the expectation or burden of representing minority or marginalized communities Readers are thus challenged to unburden the artists herein and celebrate their work on its own terms
