Monumental Harm Roger C. Hartley, 2021-01-12 A road map for addressing and resolving the debate surrounding Confederate monuments in the United States In recent years the debate over the future of Confederate monuments has taken center stage and caused bitter clashes in communities throughout the American South At the heart of the debate is the question of what these monuments represent The arguments and counterarguments are formulated around sets of assumptions grounded in Southern history politics culture and race relations Comprehending and evaluating accurately the associated claims and counterclaims calls for a careful examination of facts and legal considerations relevant to each side's assertions In Monumental Harm Roger C Hartley offers a road map to addressing and resolving this acrimonious debate Although history and popular memory play a vital role in the discussion there have been distortions of both parts Monumental Harm reviews the fact based history of the initial raising of these monuments and distinguishes it from the popular memory held by many Confederate monument supporters Hartley also addresses concerns regarding the potential erasure of history and the harm these monuments have caused the African American community over the years as well as the role they continue to play in politics and power The recent rise in White nationalism and the video recorded murders of Black citizens at the hands of White police officers have led to nationwide demonstrations and increased scrutiny of Confederate monuments on public land As injustice is laid bare and tempers flare the need for a peaceful resolution becomes ever more necessary Monumental Harm offers a way to break the rhetorical deadlock urging that we evaluate the issue through the lens of the U S Constitution while employing the overarching democratic principle that no right is absolute Through constructive discourse and good faith compromise a more perfect union is within reach

Ruined Castles, Monuments of Former Men in Vicinity of Banff James Spence (of Banff Academy.), 1873 Politics in the Monuments of Pompey the Great and Julius Caesar Eleonora Zampieri, 2022-10-21 This book explores the diachronic development of the ideological content of Pompey and Caesar's monuments in Rome emphasising the importance of the late Republican period as a precursor to imperial propaganda through architecture In the final years of the Roman Republic individuals such as Pompey the Great and Julius Caesar exploited the communicative power of architecture The former promoted the first and largest stone theatre in Rome the latter started comprehensive town planning projects that arguably verged on the utopian Yet the study of the politics expressed by these monuments and how complex late Republican politics shaped the monuments themselves has attracted less attention than that of subsequent imperial architecture Zampieri addresses this imbalance exploring the ideological meaning of late Republican monuments and highlighting that monuments were fluid adaptable entities even in the lifespan of a single individual Accompanied by detailed maps and images this volume shows how late Republican architecture should be considered an important source for understanding politics of this period Politics in the Monuments of Pompey the Great and Julius Caesar will be of use to anyone working on the politics and social world of the late Roman Republic and on Roman architecture and patronage      Aboriginal Monuments of New York ,
