History Of Australia (Volumes 5 & 6) Manning Clark, 1999-09-13 Manning Clark's six volume history is one of the masterpieces of Australian writing. It is also one of the most passionately debated visions of Australian history in which the struggle to realise an Australian nation is played out on an epic scale. A History of Australia 1888-1945 covers Federation, the Boer War and World War I's Gallipoli. It finishes with the story of an emerging Australian identity at the point of its greatest trial, the outbreak of World War II. This is not a general Australian history; it does not attempt to cover all aspects and it is not a definitive or quantitative analysis. It is a work of art, a living and breathing account of the remaking of a primitive continent. History comes alive.      Reports of the Cambridge Anthropological Expedition to Torres Straits: Volume 4, Arts and Crafts A.

C. Haddon, W. H. R. Rivers, 2011-02-17 The fourth volume concentrates on various traditions in arts and crafts from Torres Strait, New Guinea and Borneo.      The Academy and Literature ,1904      Academy and Literature Charles Edward Cutts, Birch, Appleton, Charles Edward Doble, James Sutherland Cotton, Charles Lewis Hind, William Teignmouth Shore, Alfred Bruce Douglas, Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Thomas William Hodgson Crosland, 1910      Making Faces Adam S.

Wilkins, 2017-01-02 Humans possess the most expressive faces in the animal kingdom. Adam Wilkins presents evidence ranging from the fossil record to recent findings of genetics, molecular biology and developmental biology to reconstruct the fascinating story of how the human face evolved. Beginning with the first vertebrate faces half a billion years ago and continuing to dramatic changes among our recent human ancestors, Making Faces illuminates how the unusual characteristics of the human face came about, both the physical shape of facial features and the critical role facial expression plays in human society. Offering more than an account of morphological changes over time and space, which rely on findings from paleontology and anthropology, Wilkins also draws on comparative studies of living nonhuman species. He examines the genetic foundations of the remarkable diversity in human faces and also shows how the evolution of the face was intimately connected to the evolution of the brain. Brain structures capable of recognizing different individuals as well as reading and reacting to their facial expressions led to complex social exchanges. Furthermore, the neural and muscular mechanisms that created facial expressions also allowed the development of speech, which is unique to humans. In demonstrating how the physical evolution of the human face has been inextricably intertwined with our species' growing social complexity, Wilkins argues that it was both the product and enabler of human sociality.      The Studio ,1918      Flügel's Complete dictionary
