Man Who Grew Two Breasts:

The Man who Grew Two Breasts Berton Roueché,1995 A collection of true tales of medical mystery and detection from the author's Annals of Medicine in the New Yorker Doctor-Detectives in the Mystery Novel Howard Brody,2021-01-18 This is the first book to offer a critical analysis of one variant of the mystery story or novel the use of a physician as the major detective There is little difference between a medical case study and a mystery story The book reviews the works of major authors from R Austin Freeman Helen McCloy Josephine Bell and H C Bailey to Patricia Cornwell Kathy Reichs Aaron Elkins and Colin Cotterill with briefer reviews of minor authors It also addresses historical fictional physician detectives psychological detectives and physician detective nonfiction Physicians and health workers are avid readers of detective fiction and will welcome this volume which addresses their specific interests Its critical analysis of books that have long been viewed as central to detective fiction will also appeal to fans of the mystery story Epidemic Films to Die For Tom

Zaniello,2024-10-17 Epidemic cinema remains an enduring genre of contemporary film ranging from medical dramas to post apocalyptic thrillers Using a vast filmography Zaniello not only details the incredible variety of epidemics and their role in popular culture but also demonstrates how epidemics as a rule have been confronted without proper preparation or deployment of resources in different forms of media Therefore Epidemic Films to Die For is the first and the only book that extensively analyzes the history and deployment of films and TV series towards a chronicle of epidemic films In addition to providing an overview of how widespread disease and illness have been historically depicted via film and media this book skillfully contextualizes the contemporary ongoing moment in which filmmakers and producers grapple with the cultural imaginary surrounding the COVID 19 pandemic The Blind Faith Hotel Pamela Todd,2010-04-20 When her family falls apart fourteen year old Zoe feels like her whole world is going to pieces Zoe's mother takes her kids away from their father a fisherman who ships out to Alaska and moves them to a run down farmhouse she's inherited in the Midwest Zoe's stuck in more ways than one Surrounded by strangers and a sea of prairie grass she loses her bearings A brush with the law lands Zoe in a work program at a local nature preserve But the work starts to ground and steady her When she meets a wild boy who shares her love of untamed places it seems he might help Zoe find her way Or is he too lost too damaged himself Funny and poignant sharp eyed and real this is a portrait of a girl looking for her own true self and a place she can call home

Woman Natalie Angier,2000 The author explores the essence of what it means to be a woman in body and mind as she shares her thoughts on everything from organs to orgasm and menopause Symptoms of Unknown Origin Clifton K. Meador,2005-04-22 For years after graduating from medical school Dr Clifton K Meador assumed that symptoms of the body when obviously not imaginary indicate a disease of the body something to be treated with drugs surgery or other traditional means But over several decades as he saw patients with clear symptoms but no discernable disease he concluded that his own assumptions were too narrow and indeed that the underlying basis for much of clinical medicine was severely limited

Recounting a series of fascinating case studies Meador shows in this book how he came to reject a strict adherence to the prevailing biomolecular model of disease and its separation of mind and body He studied other theories and approaches George Engel s biopsychosocial model of disease Michael Balint s study of physicians as pharmacological agents and adjusted his practice accordingly to treat what he called nondisease He had to retool learn new and more in depth interviewing and listening techniques and undergo what Balint termed a slight but significant change in personality In chapters like The Woman Who Believed She Was a Man and The Diarrhea of Agnes Meador reveals both the considerable harm that can result from wrong diagnoses of nonexistent diseases and the methods he developed to help patients with chronic symptoms not defined by a medical disease Throughout the book he recommends subsequent studies to test his observations and he urges full application of the scientific method to the doctor patient relationship pointing out that few objective studies of these all important interactions have ever been done      Traditions of the Skidi Pawnee George Amos Dorsey,1904

Environmentally Induced Illnesses Thomas Kerns,2012-07-24 Readers drawn to Rachel Carson s Silent Spring Laurie Garrett s The Coming Plague or Theo Colburn s Our Stolen Future will appreciate this work by Thomas Kerns as well The growing epidemics of chemically induced illnesses from long term low dose exposure to toxicants in both developed and developing nations are being studied by serious researchers Questions are being raised as to how societies will deal with these new problems Kerns s book is the first to directly address the ethical dimension of managing environmental health and ubiquitous toxicants such as solvents pesticides and artificial fragrances The work includes recent medical literature on chronic health effects from exposure to toxicants and the social costs of these disorders relevant historic and human rights documents recommendations for public policy and legislation and primary obstacles faced by public health advocates College instructors and students victims of chemical sensitivity disorders public health workers scientists and policymakers who are interested in the challenge of these emerging epidemics will find Kerns s text highly informative      Prosthetic Fantasies

Sarah S. Jain,1999      Secret Places Of The Shannon John M. Feehan,2016-05-31 John M Feehan gives us another book of memorable beauty      Wrestling with God and Men Steven Greenberg,2004-02-23 For millennia two biblical verses have been understood to condemn sex between men as an act so abhorrent that it is punishable by death Traditionally Orthodox Jews believing the scripture to be the word of God have rejected homosexuality in accordance with this interpretation In 1999 Rabbi Steven Greenberg challenged this tradition when he became the first Orthodox rabbi ever to openly declare his homosexuality Wrestling with God and Men is the product of Rabbi Greenberg s ten year struggle to reconcile his two warring identities In this compelling and groundbreaking work Greenberg challenges long held assumptions of scriptural interpretation and religious identity as he marks a path that is both responsible to human realities and deeply committed to God and Torah Employing traditional rabbinic resources Greenberg presents readers with surprising biblical interpretations of the creation story the love of David and Jonathan the destruction of Sodom and the condemning verses of Leviticus But

Greenberg goes beyond the question of whether homosexuality is biblically acceptable to ask how such relationships can be sacred. In so doing he draws on a wide array of nonscriptural texts to introduce readers to occasions of same sex love in Talmudic narratives, medieval Jewish poetry and prose and traditional Jewish case law literature. Ultimately Greenberg argues that Orthodox communities must open up debate, dialogue and discussion precisely the foundation upon which Jewish law rests to truly deal with the issue of homosexual love. This book will appeal not only to members of the Orthodox faith but to all religious people struggling to resolve their belief in the scriptures with a desire to make their communities more open and accepting to gay and lesbian members. 2005 Finalist for the Lambda Literary Awards for Religion/Spirituality      African Genesis Leo Frobenius, Douglas C. Fox, 1999-01-01 Presents a collection of African folk tales and myths      One Thousand One Papua New Guinean Nights: Tales from 1972-1985 Thomas H. Slone, 2001 A two volume collection of folktales that were published in Papua New Guinea's Wantok newspaper. The two volume collection presents the complete set of 1047 folktales that were originally published from 1972 through 1997 in Tok Pisin      A Print of A Man Edmond Alcid, 2007 I had walked out of the bush an old man. How Old I did not know. The years had passed without the need to celebrate the remembrance of a birth date. There was something familiar about the place I stood. Slowly faint memories recalled past moments of my life. As a young man I had walked across this field many times. I noticed a man rocking lazily on an open porch across the field. I know the man approaching; there is a twinkle in his eye. We pause and stop our eyes studying each and every feature of the other. He is familiar. I search my memory for names to place with the face before me. Thomas. Yes I am Thomas. Chapais. Thomas I am Nicolas. Two old men stood there dumbfounded with nothing to say but to repeat each other's name with favour, contempt, anger, sadness and an undying love that only kinship knows. Without an embrace nor a handshake we bonded as brothers. Need to. Our eyes were reluctant to gaze away for fear of the image disappearing      A Kid Who Became a Man Matteo Casciato, 2011-09-19 Alberto is the main personage in the novel and he represents 75 percent of the author's life. He is a young man born from a very poor family. Even so he is able to get two degrees: a master's degree in French language and literature and an associate degree in business administration. He started to attend the Orientale of Naples in Italy when he was twenty-two years old. In order to earn enough money to pay board lodging and the expenses to attend courses at the university he started to work in a private college. He remained in Naples for two years. Here while he was studying he founded together with other students a club and a magazine that started a struggle against the magnates of the university for the purpose of improving the teaching methodology. When the struggle moved from the schools to the parliament Alberto decided to quit Italy and went to France. He spent one year in Lyon as tutor in the Franco-Canadienne college and three years in Nice teaching Italian language and culture in the Lycee Massena Ecole Normale Dante Alighieri Society and the Chamber of Commerce. While he was teaching he also attended courses of French language and literature at the university and prepared himself for the exams in the Orientale of Naples. During summer months he went to Spain in order to improve his knowledge of Spanish language and literature attending courses at the University of Saragoza in Jaca In France like in Spain he was admired and appreciated as a young man able to resolve any intricate matter easily and creatively He wanted to live his life intensely without ceasing to love his girlfriend with all his heart He had experienced several loving adventures that made him fall into a deep moral and spiritual crisis Alberto said I do not know anymore who I am I act against my own principles Influenced by the French culture he understood that those principles he called his own were indeed not his but only principles accepted by him or transmitted to him by his family his school his church his town Living in Paris Alberto understood that the only valid principles in our lives were those that we created or accepted after careful consideration From now on Alberto will work hard to create his own principles and to resolve his moral and spiritual crisis In order to succeed said Alberto it is not enough to say it you must do it Being equipped with a strong dose of determination self assurance and a lot of energy he began to discard all those principles in which he did not believe anymore retaining those in which he still believed and at the same time created new ones He said There are some principles that must be saved because they represent the foundation and the understanding of our Western civilization By now Alberto was aware of being what he always wanted to become a young man hungry to accomplish what he had initiated After three years of separation Alberto went to the United States in order to see Enza his girlfriend and he decided to marry her He returned to Nizza with Enza They had a first son They returned to Italy He completed his studies getting a masters degree in French language and literature and went to live in the United States Needing to support his family he started to work in a bank and he remained there for thirty five years spending the first two achieving an associate degree in business administration The author tells the life of Alberto from infancy to youth In the entire novel there are many descriptions of landscapes in particular of his native town Alberto directly or indirectly lived the horrors of the two world wars the occupation of his town first by the Germans then by the Allies He visited Cassino a city that had been razed to the ground by the bombers during the Second World War Alberto also lived through the Fascist period and the political awakening of the great masses and their revolutionary agitations for the occupa
