Man Who Would Dam The Amazon Other Accounts From Afield:

The Man who Would Dam the Amazon & Other Accounts from Afield John G. Mitchell, 1990 American Indians and National Parks Robert H. Keller, Michael F. Turek, 1999-05-01

Many national parks and monuments tell unique stories of the struggle between the rights of native peoples and the wants of the dominant society. These stories involve our greatest parks: Yosemite, Yellowstone, Mesa Verde, Glacier, the Grand Canyon, Olympic, Everglades, as well as less celebrated parks elsewhere. In American Indians and National Parks, authors Robert Keller and Michael Turek relate these untold tales of conflict and collaboration. American Indians and National Parks details specific relationships between native peoples and national parks, including land claims, hunting rights, craft sales, cultural interpretation, sacred sites, disposition of cultural artifacts, entrance fees, dams, tourism, promotion, water rights, and assistance to tribal parks. Beginning with a historical account of Yosemite and Yellowstone, American Indians and National Parks reveals how the creation of the two oldest parks affected native peoples and set a pattern for the century to follow. Keller and Turek examine the evolution of federal policies toward land preservation and explore provocative issues surrounding park-Indian relations. When has the National Park Service changed its policies and attitudes toward Indian tribes, and why? How have environmental organizations reacted when native demands, such as those of the Havasupai over land claims in the Grand Canyon, seem to threaten a national park? How has the Park Service dealt with native claims to hunting and fishing rights in Glacier, Olympic, and the Everglades? While investigating such questions, the authors traveled extensively in national parks and conducted over 200 interviews with Native Americans, environmentalists, park rangers, and politicians. They meticulously researched materials in archives and libraries, assembling a rich collection of case studies ranging from the 19th century to the present. In American Indians and National Parks, Keller and Turek tackle a significant and complicated subject for the first time, presenting a balanced and detailed account of the Native American national park drama. This book will prove to be an invaluable resource for policymakers, conservationists, historians, park visitors, and others who are concerned about preserving both cultural and natural resources.

The Neighborhood Manhattan Forgot Matthew Spady, 2020-09-01

An illuminating treat, it retraces the neighborhood's fascinating arc from remote woodland estate to the enduring Beaux Arts streetscape. Eric K. Washington, award-winning author of Boss of the Grips, This fully illustrated history peels back the many layers of a rural society evolving into an urban community enlivened by the people who propelled it forward: property owners, tenants, laborers, and servants. It tells the intricate tale of how individual choices in the face of family dysfunction, economic crises, technological developments, and the myriad daily occurrences that elicit personal reflection and change of course pushed Audubon Park forward to the cityscape that distinguishes the neighborhood today. A longtime evangelist for Manhattan's Audubon Park neighborhood, author Matthew Spady delves deep into the lives of the two families most responsible over time for the anomalous arrangement of today's streetscape: the Audubons and the Grinnells. Beginning with the Audubons' return to America in 1839, and John James Audubon's purchase of fourteen acres of farmland The Neighborhood Manhattan Forgot follows the many twists and turns of the area's path from forest to city ending in the twenty first century with the Audubon name repurposed in today's historic district a multiethnic multi racial urban neighborhood far removed from the homogeneous Eurocentric Audubon Park suburb This well documented saga of demographics chronicles a dazzling cast of characters and a plot fraught with idealism speculation and expansion as well as religious political and real estate machinations Roberta J M Olson PhD Curator of Drawings New York Historical Society The story of the area's evolution from hinterland to suburb to city is comprehensively told in Matthew Spady's fluidly written new history The New York Times The Man Who Would Dam the Amazon and Other Accounts from Afield John G.
