Bartholomew, 2010-11-02 Thinking is an innate ability that most people take for granted But like writing well or speaking effectively before the public thinking well is a skill that can be learned and improved with practice In this unique introduction to critical thinking Robert Bartholomew and Benjamin Radford first lay out the principles of critical thinking and then invite readers to put these principles to the test by examining a series of unusual and challenging case studies Assembling a wide range of bizarre but actual incidents from many cultures and various time periods they demonstrate how the tools of critical thinking can help to unravel alleged paranormal events and seemingly mysterious behavior What factors led to the Martian panic of 1938 Why did many people conclude that an alien spaceship crashed in Roswell New Mexico in 1947 How do we explain the panic expressed by otherwise normal Southeast Asian men who came to believe that a contagious disease was causing their genitals to shrink or the frenzied dance manias that captivated thousands of Europeans during the Middle Ages Bartholomew and Radford show that reality is very much a social construction that cultural assumptions play a large part in our judgments about what is normal and what is deviant and that the use of critical reasoning is our best means of ensuring an objective perspective The Life Fantastic Noa Menhaim, 2022-07-12 Explore the sprawling network of culture to discover the incredible ways in which ideas connect to shape the world we see today These mind blowing essays dig down to the roots of stories myths and literary genres travelling from art to politics to history to folklore and from high to popular culture and back again Through an intricate web of sidenotes embark on a voyage of discovery from the unluckiest book ever made to Viking horned helmets to the sex life of vampires or from mermaids frolicking in the margins to the ancient Amazons to the power of Amazon and on to Utopia and Atlantis This is western culture as you ve never seen it before Little Green Men, Meowing Nuns and Head-Hunting Panics Robert E. Character in the Short Prose of Ivan Sergeevič Turgenev Sander Brouwer, 2023-07-10 In this book the problem of literary character is investigated in a series of detailed analyses of short stories by I S Turgenev Bezhin Lea Mumu A Journey into Poles The Dog and Punin and Baburin Up until roughly the 1920s in Russia before Formalism the approach to character in literary criticism was based on the implicit assumption that literary character somehow reflected characters in real life who were thought to have a fixed inner essence psychological and or ideological In post formalist structuralist studies on the other hand character as it were dissolved into the textual fabric of the work In this book the basic viewpoint of structuralist theory of character namely its exclusively textual nature is retained But in that case how is the structure of character in texts of the pre modernist era to be described in which the belief in the existence of an inner essence in actual as well as in fictional characters had hardly yet been shaken In order to tackle this problem the author turns to Roman Jakobson's idea taken up and developed by W Schmid and A Hansen Lve that the meaning of a work of literature is generated by the interaction of paradigmatic and syntagmatic mechanisms The image of character in Turgenev's stories is the result of devices characteristic of narrative as well as of verbal art It is partly created with the help of leitmotifs that form sequences of equivalences and of intertextual references Thus social representation is supplemented by lyrical and philosophical overtones Comparable observations have been made by V M Markovic 1982 on Turgenev s novels as well as on those by Pu kin Gogol and Lermontov For the assessment of intra and intertextual equivalences it has been found of great importance to pay more attention than is usually done to folkloric connotations of details in Turgenev s fictional world Thus new layers of meaning can be uncovered in stories that have been considered well studied and a first ever interpretation is given of The Dog a story traditionally regarded as incomprehensible

Jung's Studies in Astrology Liz Greene, 2019-09-04 Winner of the IAJS award for best authored book of 2018 C G Jung had a profound interest in and involvement with astrology which he made clear in virtually every volume of the Collected Works as well as in many of his letters This ancient symbolic system was of primary importance in his understanding of the nature of time the archetypes synchronicity and human fate Jung s Studies in Astrology is an historical survey of his astrological work from the time he began to study the subject It is based not only on his published writings but also on the correspondence and documents found in his private archives many of which have never previously seen the light of day Liz Greene addresses with thoroughness and detailed scholarship the nature of Jung s involvement with astrology the ancient medieval and modern sources he drew on the individuals from whom he learned his ideas about how and why it worked its religious and philosophical implications and its applications in the treatment of his patients as well as in his own self understanding Greene clearly demonstrates that any serious effort to understand the development of Jung s psychological theories as well as the nature of his world view needs to involve a thorough exploration of his astrological work This thorough investigation of a central theme in Jung s work will appeal to analytical psychologists and Jungian psychotherapists students and academics of Jungian and post Jungian theory the history of psychology archetypal thought mythology and folklore the history of New Age movements esotericism and psychological astrology
