

A man with dark, wavy hair and a beard, wearing a dark suit, is in the foreground, looking thoughtfully to the side with his hand near his chin. Behind him stands a woman in a light-colored blouse and a dark vest, looking forward. They are in a garden with manicured hedges. In the background is a large, ornate building with multiple domes and spires, possibly a university or government building, under a hazy, golden sky.

Table of contents The World as Metaphor in Robert Musil's The Man Without Qualities Genese Grill,2012 The first study to utilize the Klagenfurt Edition of Musil's Nachlass offers a close reading of textual variations emphasizing Musil's commitment to the artist's role in re-creating the world Robert Musil known to be a scientific and philosophical thinker was committed to aesthetics as a process of experimental creation of an ever shifting reality Musil wanted above all to be a creative writer and obsessively engaged in almost endless deferral via variations and metaphoric possibilities in his novel project The Man without Qualities This lifelong process of writing is embodied in the unfinished novel by a recurring metaphor of self generating de centered circle worlds The present study analyzes this structure with reference to Musil s concepts of the utopia of the Other Condition Living and Dead Words Specific and Non Specific Emotions Word Magic and the Still Life In contrast to most recent studies of Musil it concludes that the extratemporal metaphoric experience of the Other Condition does not fail but rather constitutes the formal and ethical core of Musil s novel The first study to utilize the newly published Klagenfurt Edition of Musil s literary remains a searchable annotated text The World as Metaphor offers a close reading of variations and text genesis shedding light not only on Musil s novel but also on larger questions about the modernist artist s role and responsibility in consciously re creating the world Genese Grill holds a PhD in Germanic Literatures and Languages from the Graduate School and University Center of the City University of New York

The Intersection of Science and Literature in Musil's "The Man Without Qualities" Thomas Sebastian, 2005 A fresh view of the interplay of science and literature affecting Musil s great novel As the utopian projection of a world in which the conditional mood is preferred to the indicative Robert Musil s ambitious novel The Man Without Qualities is widely recognized as a great example of aesthetic modernism and a profound reflection on the postmodern condition Based on the new and more inclusive English translation by Sophie Wilkins and Burton Pike this study provides the English speaking reader with a well researched commentary that situates Musil s novel in the cultural literary and scientific context of the early 20th century Revealing the novel s many philosophical underpinnings the study analyzes the intersection of theoretical reflection and aesthetic imagination essential to Musil s programmatic move beyond realism Thomas Sebastian explores Musil s background in experimental psychology which he studied under the pioneering psychologist Carl Stumpf and how it and other strains of scientific thought including that of Ernst Mach on whose philosophical ideas Musil wrote his doctoral thesis are reflected in his great novel Thomas Sebastian is Associate Professor of German at Trinity University in San Antonio Texas

Eros And Inwardness In Vienna David S. Luft, 2003-06 Although we usually think of the intellectual legacy of twentieth century Vienna as synonymous with Sigmund Freud and his psychoanalytic theories other prominent writers from Vienna were also radically reconceiving sexuality and gender In this probing new study David Luft recovers the work of three such writers Otto Weininger Robert Musil and Heimito von Doderer His account emphasizes the distinctive intellectual world of liberal Vienna especially the impact of Schopenhauer and Nietzsche in this highly scientific intellectual world According to

Luft Otto Weininger viewed human beings as bisexual and applied this theme to issues of creativity and morality Robert Musil developed a creative ethics that was closely related to his open flexible view of sexuality and gender And Heimito von Doderer portrayed his own sexual obsessions as a way of understanding the power of total ideologies including his own attraction to National Socialism For Luft the significance of these three writers lies in their understandings of eros and inwardness and in the roles that both play in ethical experience and the formation of meaningful relations to the world a process that continues to engage artists writers and thinkers today Eros and Inwardness in Vienna will profoundly reshape our understanding of Vienna s intellectual history It will be important for anyone interested in Austrian or German history literature or philosophy
