S. Department of Health,2002 1 Best Seller on Sickle Cell Disease SCD Sickle cell disease is a group of blood disorders passed down from parents to children Sickle cell anemia shortens life expectancy by 30 years via bacterial infections painful swellings fever arthritis leg ulcers eye lung heart damage Over 100 000 people mostly African Americans in the United States have sickle cell disease Over 2 million people have sickle cell trait in America It is estimated that more than 300 000 children are born each year with SCD around the world This edition of The Management of Sickle Cell Disease SCD is organized into four parts 1 Diagnosis and Counseling 2 Health Maintenance 3 Treatment of Acute and Chronic Complications 4 Special Topics The original intent was to incorporate evidence based medicine into each chapter but there was variation among evidence level scales and some authors felt recommendations could be made based on accepted practice without formal trials in this rare disorder The best evidence still is represented by randomized controlled trials RCTs but variations exist in their design conduct endpoints and analyses It should be emphasized that selected people enter a trial and results should apply in practice specifically to populations with the same characteristics as those in the trial Randomization is used to reduce imbalances between groups but unexpected factors sometimes may confound analysis or interpretation In addition a trial may last only a short period of time but long term clinical implications may exist Another issue is treatment variation for example a new pneumococcal vaccine developed after the trial which has not been tested formally in a sickle cell population Earlier trial results may be accepted based on the assumption that the change is small In some cases RCTs cannot be done satisfactorily e g for ethical reasons an insufficient number of patients or a lack of objective measures for sickle cell crises Thus the bulk of clinical experience in SCD still remains in the moderately strong and weaker categories of evidence Not everyone has an efficacious outcome in a clinical trial and the frequency of adverse events such as with long term transfusion programs or hematopoietic transplants might not be considered Thus an assessment of benefit to risk ratio should enter into translation of evidence levels into practice recommendations A final issue is that there may be two alternative approaches that are competitive e g transfusions and hydroxyurea In this case the pros and cons of each course of treatment should be discussed with the patient This book is B W copy of the government agency publication
