outgoing 20 century Globally operating management consulting firms with thousands of consultants have emerged They coexist alongside many small consultancies and single practitioners As a result a remarkable diversity in the organizational structure of management consulting firms has developed Organizational structure is of utmost importance for consultancies as it directly impacts their business and employment models Yet little scientific explanation has been offered so far on the factors accounting for the diversity of organizational structure in management consulting Michael Graubner explores this contemporary topic His research is guided by the contingency theory of organizations one of the classical organization theory schools of thought that has been traditionally applied to investigate organizational structure in manufacturing banking and the public sector The author thoroughly reviews the different aspects of contingency theory contingency factors constructs of organizational structure the concept of fit between contingencies and structure organic vs bureaucratic theory and reflects on them in the light of other organization theory schools of thought

Contemporary Issues in Construction in Developing Countries George Ofori,2012-06-26 Economic growth and socio economic development are particularly important for developing countries and the construction industry plays a central role in driving both of these Traditionally the issues faced have been assumed to be merely offshoots of those encountered in industrialised nations and are usually discussed only in this context In addition research in construction management and economics has generally failed to take proper account of the unique or highly emphasised characteristics of the industries in developing countries or their economic and social environment This volume challenges underlying assumptions and focuses on the distinct characteristics of construction in developing countries In so doing it considers the issues from the perspective of the developing countries themselves to present a strong contemporary picture for researchers It forms a companion volume to New Perspectives on Construction in Developing Countries which provides an update on the generic subjects relating to the construction industry in developing countries and covers new concepts and issues
