D. Storey,F. Greene,K. Mole,2007-12-04 This book provides a unique portrait of the changing nature of entrepreneurship over a thirty year period in a low enterprise area Using data from interviews with over 900 entrepreneurs it also compares and contrasts new businesses in a low enterprise area with areas with medium and high entrepreneurship rates Small Firms Growth and Development Michael Scott,1986 Women and the Labour Market Teresa Rees,2022-08-24 The labour market was undergoing considerable change In particular the advance of new technology and the development of positive action training for women had the potential to change patterns of gender segregation in the workplace Originally published in 1992 Teresa Rees draws on a wide range of international studies of these issues and discusses them in the context of current theoretical and political debate Based on work carried out by the author in Britain Germany and Australia Women and the Labour Market focuses on education and training policy changes in labour supply and changes in the nature and size of labour demand It highlights the obstacles to equality at work showing how the ideology of the family the limitations of material reality and the exclusionary mechanisms operated by men have had an adverse impact upon women s experiences of paid work As well as underlining the power of patriarchy in shaping the labour market Women and the Labour Market also discusses the development of policy measures which might have some effect on breaking down gender inequalities An important contribution to debates at the time the study puts forward practical suggestions for adjusting the system at the key points of recruitment training and work organisation

The Making of Migrant Entrepreneurs Dominic Zimmermann, 2016-02-02 Given the diversification of global migration patterns the increased importance attributed to knowledge and innovation for economic development and the rise of social policy regimes that emphasise self responsibility migrant entrepreneurship has become a widely discussed form of migrant incorporation in both policy and social sciences Particularly in North America and Europe policy advisors have drafted special programmes and regulations aimed at self employed migrants while social scientists have also come up with a vast body of research although it has not been exempt from certain controversies and biases Migrant entrepreneurship has frequently been associated either with rags to riches success stories or with unremunerative hard work and marginalised social positions Also a great deal of research has strongly and consistently focused on entrepreneurial cultures and ethnic bonds related to ethnic entrepreneurship and consequently other forms of migrant self employment have been given only given scant attention Yet more recently other aspects including institutional embeddedness and gender have become important focal points of research studies and have opened up new promising avenues to explore the phenomenon This book offers a comprehensive up to date overview of the research area covering migrant entrepreneurship and self employment in addition to investigating the skills of migrant entrepreneurs departing from the question which migrants become self employed the highly skilled ones due to their excellence or the ones with a low skill endowment because they cannot find a satisfying employment in the labour market Moreover the included case study on highly skilled Peruvian migrant micro entrepreneurs in Switzerland demonstrates the complex interplay of elements at work before and during the business foundation such as an unsatisfying socio economic integration the search for social recognition and agency the reconfiguration of gender roles and the availability of resources to exploit transnational business opportunities
