Culture and Paradiplomatic Identity Ioan Horga, Maria Manuela Tavares Ribeiro, Alina Stoica, 2016-02-22 The beginning of the millennium has been influenced by a visible acceleration of the globalisation process A complex and dynamic phenomenon it has generated a series of consequences at the political strategic and military levels as well as the cultural level The increase of interdependence between actors on the international stage modern technologies means of communication cross border relations and the constant flux of goods capital services and people entail major changes for the tools used by states in international relations In this context states are obligated to identify solutions to overcome risks and threats posed to peace and security as current regional conflicts can easily become international In order to streamline communication and interstate cooperation beyond the classic appeal to tolerance there has been in recent years an exponential increase of the use of culture and by extension cultural diplomacy Thus cultural cooperation represents a vital part of the current process of transformation and transition Adopting an interdisciplinary character this volume investigates some of the aspects that emphasise the essential role of culture as a promoter and supporter of peace and security as an agent of regional and national development as well as its contributions to attracting and retaining human and financial capital regional branding and improving quality of life among others The volume will particularly appeal to professors and students of political science international relations history economy law and sociology as well as intellectuals interested in the catalysing role of culture in all areas of activity Le management interculturel Virginia
