Borowski, 1986 The essays commentaries and speeches which form this volume were presented at the Eleventh Military History Symposium held at the United States Air Force Academy on 10 12 October 1984 This conference is a biennial event sponsored jointly by the Department of History and the Association of Graduates of the United States Air Force Academy Begun in 1967 the series seeks to address problems in military history which have received limited attention and to provide a forum in which scholars may present the results of their research In this manner we hope to stimulate and encourage interest in military history among civilian and military scholars members of the armed forces and the cadets of the United States Air Force Academy Stepping Stones to Nowhere Galen Roger Perras, 2003 The Aleutian Islands a mostly forgotten portion of the United States on the southwest coast of Alaska have often assumed a key role in American military strategy This work examines the Japanese occupation of the western Aleutians which climaxed in the horrendous battle for Attu An Army at War: Change in the Midst of Conflict (The Proceedings of the Combat Studies Institute [sic] 2005 Military History Symposium) , Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States. Superintendent of Documents, 1985 The United States Air Force Academy , 1996 Air Force Roles and Missions Warren A. Trest, 1998 Traces the usage of and meaning given to the terms roles and missions relating to the armed forces and particularly to the United States Air Force from 1907 to the present Air Force roles and missions: A History , 1998 The twentieth century witnessed the emergence of three dimensionality in war surface forces flow became prey for attackers operating above and below the earth and its oceans The aerial weapon prophesied for centuries became a reality as did air power projection forces This insightful book by Warren A Trest traces the doctrinal underpinnings of the modern United States Air Force the world s only global air force We the men and women who serve in the Air Force but also our fellow airmen in America s other military services are the heirs and beneficiaries of a long heritage of doctrinal development and military thought Our predecessors pursued a vision of airborne global reach and power that often put them at odds with those who could not break free of the confines of conventional thought and lock step traditionalism Fortunately they had the courage of their convictions and the faith in their vision to continue to pursue the goal of global air power despite such resistance Today America is a genuine aerospace power and that pioneering vision dating to the days of the Wright brothers has expanded to encompass operations in space and between the mediums of air and space As we approach the new millennium it is well to ponder the lessons and the history of how a small group of truly gifted airmen transformed their nation s military establishment and in so doing the world around them Trillions for Military Technology J. Alic,2007-09-03 Trillions for Military Technology explains why the weapons purchased by the U S Department of Defense cost so much why it takes decades to get them into production even as innovation in the civilian economy becomes ever more frenetic and why some of those weapons don t work very well despite expenditures of many billions of dollars It also explains what do about these problems The author argues that the internal politics of the armed services make weapons acquisition almost unmanageable Solutions require empowering civilian officials and reforms that will bring choice of weapons into the sunshine of public debate Storm Over Iraq Richard Hallion,2015-05-26 An incisive account of the Persian Gulf War Storm Over Iraq shows how the success of Operation Desert Storm was the product of two decades of profound changes in the American approach to defense military doctrine and combat operations The first detailed analysis of why the Gulf War could be fought the way it was the book examines the planning and preparation for war Richard P Hallion argues that the ascendancy of precision air power in warfare which fulfilled the promise that air power had held for more than seventy five years reflects the revolutionary adaptation of a war strategy that targets things rather than people allowing one to control an opposing nation without destroying it
