Man Of Nazareth A Novel:

Man of Nazareth Anthony Burgess, 1979 Three from Galilee Marjorie Holmes, 1985 Portrays the life of Jesus from age twelve when he debated the elders in the Temple through age thirty when he began his ministry a period not covered in the Bible The Man from Nazareth as His Contemporaries Saw Him Harry Emerson Fosdick, 1949 Reading Spiritualities Dawn Llewellyn, 2016-04-01 The phenomenon of sacred text has undergone radical deconstruction in recent times reflecting how religion has broken out of its traditional definitions and practices and how current literary theories have influenced texts inside the religious domain and beyond Reading Spiritualities presents both commentary and vivid examples of this evolution engaging with a variety of reading practices that work with traditional texts and those that extend the notion of text itself The contributors draw on a range of textual sites such as an interview Caribbean literature drama and jazz women s writings emerging church blogs Neopagan websites the reading practices of Buddhist nuns empirical studies on the reading experiences of Gujarati Christian and post Christian women Chicana short stories the mosque cinema modern art and literature These examples open up understandings of where and how sacred texts are emerging and being reassessed within contemporary religious and spiritual contexts and make room for readings where the spiritual resides not only in the textual but in other unexpected places Reading Spiritualities includes contributions from Graham Holderness Ursula King Michael N Jagessar David Jasper Anthony G Reddie Mich le Roberts and Heather Walton to reflect and encourage the interdisciplinary study of sacred text in the broad arena of the arts and social sciences It offers a unique and well focused snapshot of the textual constructions and representations of the sacred within the contemporary religious climate accessible to the general reader as well as more specialist interests of students and researchers working in the crossover fields of religious theological cultural and literary studies Persuaded: The Story of Nicodemus, A Novel David Harder, 2020-06-09 Escaped narrowly after the fall of Jerusalem Pursued relentlessly by the Sanhedrin Entrusted covertly with a mission more significant than he had imagined From the prison colony on Patmos the Apostle John entrusts Nicodemus with manuscripts for the Christian fellowships increasing throughout the Roman Empire While transcribing the manuscript Nicodemus is prompted to recall his former life and his encounter with Yeshua a man of mystery a healer a teacher and a prophet An encounter that changed everything Under the cover of darkness risking his reputation and endangering his life even further it is here that Nicodemus realizes the world changing power of the Good News and what being a follower of Yeshua truly means Re-Writing Jesus: Christ in 20th-Century Fiction and Film Graham Holderness, 2014-11-20 At the heart of Christian theology lies a paradox unintelligible to other religions and to secular humanism that in the person of Jesus God became man and suffered on the cross to effect humanity s salvation In his dual nature as mortal and divinity and unlike the impassable God of other monotheisms Christ thus became accessible to artistic representation Hence the figure of Jesus has haunted and compelled the imagination of artists and writers for 2 000 years

This was never more so than in the 20th Century in a supposedly secular age when the Jesus of popular fiction and film became perhaps more familiar than the Christ of the New Testament In Re Writing Jesus Christ in 20th Century Fiction and Film Graham Holderness explores how writers and film makers have sought to recreate Christ in work as diverse as Anthony Burgess's Man of Nazareth and Jim Crace's Quarantine to Martin Scorsese's The Last Temptation of Christ and Mel Gibson's Passion of the Christ These works are set within a longer and broader history of Jesus novels and Jesus films a lineage traced back to Ernest Renan and George Moore and explored both for their reflections of contemporary Christological debates and their positive contributions to Christian theology In its final chapter the book draws on the insights of this tradition of Christological representation to creatively construct a new life of Christ an original work of theological fiction that both subsumes the history of the form and offers a startlingly new perspective on the biography of Christ

On the World and Ourselves Zygmunt Bauman,Stanislaw Obirek,2015-09-14 Unde malum from where does evil come That is the question that has plagued humankind ever since Eve seduced by the serpent tempted Adam to taste the forbidden fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil Throughout history the awareness of good and evil has always been linked to the awareness of choice and to the freedom and responsibility to choose this is what makes us human But the responsibility to choose is a burden that weighs heavily on our shoulders and the temptation to hand this over to someone else be they a demagogue or a scientist who claims to trace everything back to our genes is a tempting illusion like the paradise in which humans have at last been relieved of the moral responsibility for their actions In the second series of their conversations Zygmunt Bauman and Stanislaw Obirek reflect on the life challenges confronted by the denizens of the fragmented individualized society of consumers and the form taken in such a society by the fundamental aspects of the human condition such as human responsibility for the choice between good and evil self formation and self assertion the need for recognition or the call to empathy mutual respect human dignity and tolerance

The Aesthetics of Anthony Burgess Jim Clarke, 2017-10-26 The book is the first full length text on Anthony Burgess's fiction in a generation and offers a radical and innovative way of understanding the extensive literary achievements of one of the twentieth century's most innovative authors This book explores Burgess's dazzlingly diverse range of novels through the one key theme which links them all the artistic process itself Borrowing from Nietzsche's aesthetic dichotomy of Apollo and Dionysus the book uncovers the protracted evolution of Burgess's fiction and offers a unifying theory which links his early postcolonial fiction chronologically via his modernist experiments like A Clockwork Orange and Nothing Like The Sun to his late classics Mozart and the Wolfgang and A Dead Man in Deptford This volume clarifies Burgess's seminal role as both late modernist and early postmodernist and lucidly unveils the legacy of England's most mercurial novelist

Ingermanson,2020-04-02 Nazareth has been cruel to my mother more cruel than any village ever was All the village says that my blood father is not the man who married my mother They have shamed her on the matter all my life Every woman asks which man of the village is my blood father Every man scowls and says he was not the one my mother seduced My mother will not tell who is my blood father My mother will not speak on the matter My mother bears her shame in silence Some righteous man a prophet said a word over me when I was a babe in arms He told how I will redeem Israel when I grow to be a man Now I have grown to be a man but I do not know how to redeem Israel The scriptures do not explain the matter My people say that the man who redeems Israel must take up the sword and throw off our enemy Rome which we call the Great Satan My family says I must take up the sword Only I am no man of the sword I wish with all my heart to redeem Israel but HaShem the God of our fathers must tell me how Lately there came a new prophet to Israel who immerses for repentance at the river Jordan I went to ask the prophet how I should redeem Israel He said I am to smite the four Powers I asked what are the four Powers He could not say but he said HaShem will reveal the matter to me I wish HaShem will reveal the matter only I am not a prophet Not yet But I will be Here is what I know Every hour of every day I feel the Presence of HaShem I do not know why I should feel the Presence always My mother does not My village does not Even the prophet of HaShem does not I think the Presence will teach me the way to redeem Israel But I am afraid to redeem Israel To redeem Israel is to leave my mother to the scorn of the village The rage of the village My mother begs and cries on me to make a justice for her To make a justice on the village I do not know how to make a justice on the village I do not know how to redeem Israel But HaShem will show me the way I will learn how to be a prophet of HaShem I will learn how to redeem Israel I will learn how to make a justice for my mother I will smite the first Power Or I will die in the trying
