Man Of Words In The West Indies:

The Man-of-words in the West Indies Roger D. Abrahams, 1983 The Man who Adores the Negro Patrick B. Mullen, 2008 The challenges of interracial fieldwork Contemporary Caribbean Women's Poetry Denise deCaires Narain, 2003-08-29 Contemporary Caribbean Women's Poetry provides detailed readings of individual poems by women poets whose work has not yet received the sustained critical attention it deserves These readings are contextualized both within Caribbean cultural debates and postcolonial and feminist critical discourses in a lively and engaged way revisiting nationalist debates as well as topical issues about the performance of gendered and raced identities within poetic discourse Newly available in paperback this book is groundbreaking reading for all those interested in postcolonialism Gender Studies Caribbean Studies and contemporary poetry Tap Dancing America Constance Valis Hill, 2014-11-12 Here is the vibrant colorful high stepping story of tap the first comprehensive fully documented history of a uniquely American art form Writing with all the verve and grace of tap itself Constance Valis Hill offers a sweeping narrative filling a major gap in American Decolonizing the Stage Christopher B. Balme, 1999 A study of post dance history and placing tap firmly center stage colonial drama and theatre It examines how dramatists from various societies have attempted to fuse the performance idioms of their traditions with the Western dramatic form demonstrating how the dynamics of syncretic theatrical texts function in Sport, Racism And Ethnicity Grant Jarvie, 2003-09-02 First Published in 1991 Over the past decade there performance has been a notable growth of interest in the study of sport in the contexts of race and ethnicity A number of developments have contributed to stimulate this interest but three sets of considerations appear to have been of decisive importance First black sportsmen and sportswomen have experienced remarkable successes in international sport Second such a disproportionately high level of athletic participation by various ethnic minority cultures has often been used by liberal minded sports enthusiasts to presume that sport enjoys a certain degree of democratisation and equality Third that in certain areas of the world sport itself has been central to struggles of popular resistance against dominant groups The papers in this volume not only consider the racisms experienced by various ethnic minority sportsmen and sportswomen in Britain but also the way in which various racisms have been articulated in South Africa the Caribbean Canada and the United States The following are indicative of the key issues addressed by this text the extent to which cricket has stimulated the role of nationalist and racial self consciousness in the Caribbean the extent to which young black Afro Caribbean sports people are agents of racialised social control in Britain the contribution of sport to popular struggles in South Africa the experience of young children of South Asian origin of sport in Britain and the extent to which Native American women are accommodated in sport in Canada This book sets out to challenge many of the voluntarist racist cherished beliefs surrounding sport Hybrid Muse Jahan Ramazani, 2001-10 Postcolonial novelists such as Salman Rushdie and V S Naipaul are widely celebrated yet the achievements of these poets have been strangely neglected This work argues that these poets have dramatically a captivating exploration of the Caribbean weaving keen observations with vivid storytelling Written during the late 19th century a period marked by colonial expansion and heightened interest in tropical locales this travelogue reflects Trollope s characteristic narrative style accessible yet richly detailed He juxtaposes the beauty of the landscapes with the complexities of colonial politics social issues and economic challenges enhancing the reader s understanding of the region s cultural tapestry Trollope's acute social insights and his ability to capture the essence of place make this work a significant contribution to the genre of travel literature Anthony Trollope renowned for his keen social commentary and extensive literary output was profoundly influenced by his travels and the political context of his era His background as an Anglican cleric and his experiences in British colonial administration equipped him with a unique perspective on the dynamics of empire and its impact on local societies This blend of professional insight and personal curiosity about the world inspired Trollope to document his observations in a way that is both enlightening and entertaining inviting readers to contemplate the broader implications of colonialism For readers interested in the intersection of travel and literature The West Indies and the Spanish Main is an essential read that not only entertains but also educates about the socio political landscape of the Caribbean during a critical period Trollope's lucid prose and perceptive commentary compel the reader to reflect on the complexities of identity and cultural exchange making this work a valuable addition to any literary collection Few Words - The Short Humour of Swan Morrison Swan Morrison, 2006-11 With today s busy lifestyles there can barely be time to read anything Fears have been expressed that English literature might become the preserve of a few specialist academics as texts in cuneiform script and hieroglyphic writing The answer could be Short Humour which can be read at any time and almost anywhere Far Eastern low cost pirate versions of The Oxferd Inglish Ducksionery explain Short Humour as Non serious writing that is not too long Swan Morrison defined not too long as around 500 words and stories poems and the like began to be written that could be read in their entirety in less than ninety seconds A Man of Few Words is a collection of one hundred such examples of SH by Swan Morrison with a connecting theme of life in contemporary Britain In addition The Short Humour Site has been created at www short humour org uk This site aims to promote the reading and writing of SH both in Britain and throughout the world and to showcase the work of writers of the genre The Man Who Tasted Words Dr. Guy Leschziner, 2022-02-22 In The Man Who Tasted Words Guy Leschziner leads readers through the senses and how through them our brain understands or misunderstands the world around us Vision hearing taste smell and touch are what we rely on to perceive the reality of our world Our senses are the conduits that bring us the scent of a freshly brewed cup of coffee or the notes of a favorite song suddenly playing on the radio But are they really that reliable The Man Who Tasted Words shows that what we perceive to be absolute truths of the world around us is actually a complex internal reconstruction by our minds and nervous systems The translation into experiences with conscious meaning the pattern of light and dark on the retina that is transformed into the face of a loved one for instance is a process that is invisible undetected by ourselves and in most cases completely out of our control In The Man Who Tasted Words neurologist Guy Leschziner explores how our nervous systems define our worlds and how we can in fact be victims of falsehoods perpetrated by our own brains In his moving and lyrical chronicles of lives turned upside down by a disruption in one or more of their five senses he introduces readers to extraordinary individuals like one man who actually tasted words and shows us how sensory disruptions like that have played havoc not only with their view of the world but with their relationships as well The cases Leschziner shares in The Man Who Tasted Words are extreme but they are also human and teach us how our lives and what we perceive as reality are both ultimately defined by the complexities of our nervous systems
