Hedreen, 2015-11-26 This book explores the persona of the artist in Archaic and Classical Greek art and literature. Guy Hedreen argues that artistic subjectivity first expressed in Athenian vase painting of the sixth century BCE and intensively explored by Euphronios developed alongside a self consciously constructed persona of the poet. He explains how poets like Archilochos and Hipponax identified with the wily Homeric character of Odysseus as a prototype of the successful narrator and how the lame yet resourceful artist god Hephaistos is emulated by Archaic vase painters such as Kleitias. In lyric poetry and pictorial art Hedreen traces a widespread conception of the artist or poet as socially marginal and sometimes physically imperfect but rhetorically clever, technically peerless and a master of fiction. Bringing together in a sustained analysis the roots of subjectivity across media, this book offers a new way of studying the relationship between poetry and art in ancient Greece. Paladin Christ Kennedy, 2019-04-23 The plot twists and characters clash in this tension filled origin story of

Paladin, a future aged Super Hero. As Henry, a disinherited homeless embarrassment to his family with no regrets for the mysterious past that alienated him from his life of entitlement, is threatened by the political ambitions of his own brother, a computer genius drifting through university, an EMT with a gambling problem, an aging Russian gymnast and a zealous religious believer are forced together by unexpected circumstances while a cognizant artificial intelligence in control of an apocalyptic pleomorphic weapon looms in the background in search for a reason not to destroy the globe. Don't Look Back

(Women of Justice Book #2): A Novel Lynette Eason, 2010 A lovely but broken forensic anthropologist confronts her fears in this spine tingling romantic suspense. Murder City Charles Bowden, 2010-03-30 Ciudad Juarez lies just across the Rio

Grande from El Paso, Texas. A once thriving border town, it now resembles a failed state. Infamously known as the place where women disappear, its murder rate exceeds that of Baghdad. In Murder City, Charles Bowden, one of the few journalists who spent extended periods of time in Juarez, has written an extraordinary account of what happens when a city disintegrates. Interweaving stories of its inhabitants: a beauty queen who was raped, a repentant hitman, a journalist fleeing for his life, with a broader meditation on the town's descent into anarchy, Bowden reveals how Juarez's culture of violence will not only worsen but inevitably spread north. Heartbreaking, disturbing and unforgettable, Murder City was written at the height of his powers and established Bowden as one of America's leading journalists. Approaching the Ancient Artifact Amalia Avramidou, Denise Demetriou, 2014-08-25 This volume consists of forty contributions written by an internationally renowned selection of scholars The authors adopt an interdisciplinary methodology examining both literary and archaeological sources and a comparative perspective that transgresses national chronological and cultural boundaries in order to investigate the nature of the links between text and image This multifaceted approach to the study of ancient artifacts enables the authors to treat art and artistic production as activities that do not merely mirror social or cultural relationships but rather and more significantly as activities that create social and cultural relationships The essays in this book are motivated by their authors belief that there is no simple direct link between art and myths art and text or art and ritual and that art should not be delegated to the role of a by product of a literate culture Instead the contextual and symbolic analyses of artifacts and representations offered in this volume elucidate how art actively shaped myth how it changed texts how it transformed ritual and how it altered the course of local regional and Mediterranean histories
