When Montana Outraced the East Catharine Melin-Moser, 2025-04-01 In Gilded Age Montana three former frontiersmen turned from speculation in minerals to speculation in Thoroughbred horses The rest is horse racing history or would be if the story had ever been written When Montana Outraced the East retrieves the largely forgotten late nineteenth century golden age of the Montana Thoroughbred industry when Montana horses won some of the biggest prizes in American horse racing confounding national sportswriters and threatening to reshape the balance of power within America's oldest sport This book introduces readers to larger than life characters like silver baron Noah Armstrong pioneer banker Samuel Larabee and Copper King Marcus Daly each pursuing his passion for horses by studying pedigrees importing blue blooded stock and turning them loose on native grasses under Montana's big sky Where one observer saw verist madness in the enterprise another sports journalist foresaw a not too distant day when Montana would rival the worlds of old Yorkshire and the Blue Grass region of Kentucky in the fame and celebrity of its racehorses And indeed in due time the Montana horsemen were fielding equine stars like Spokane winner of the 1889 Kentucky Derby Scottish Chieftain winner in the 1897 Belmont Stakes and Ogden the Horse of Mystery that rocked the eastern racing establishment by taking the 1896 Futurity at prerace odds of 150 to 1 Catharine Melin Moser recreates the thrilling era when through the shrewd foresight hustle and luck that had made them millionaires Montana entrepreneurs made a lasting mark on American horse racing In telling their story her book restores a significant and thoroughly captivating chapter to American Thoroughbred racing history

Nomad Brian W. Dippie, 2014-07-03 Between 1867 and 1875 George Armstrong Custer contributed fifteen letters under the apt pseudonym Nomad to the New York based sportsman's journal Turf Field and Farm Previously available only in a collector's typescript edition the Nomad letters offer valuable insight into the character of the Boy General as he gives expression to his abiding love for hunting horses and hounds Vivid accounts of days in the field after buffalo and deer alternate with letters that attest to Custer's passion for Kentucky thoroughbreds and trotters and his devotion to his favorite hunting dogs Moreover the letters show Custer as a student of literature who constantly alluded to works of fiction and drama and who loved to quote poetry as he self consciously honed his skills as a writer The Nomad letters also open the way to controversy since three of the letters written in 1867 as Brian Dippie's careful annotations make clear offer a strikingly different account of Custer's ill starred induction into Indian fighting than the accepted version recorded five years later in his memoirs My Life on the Plains Composed only a few months after the abortive Hancock Expedition that led to Custer's court martial and suspension from rank and pay for one year the Nomad letters are full of a passion and venom absent from My Life on the Plains They provide an immediate response to the events of 1867 that will interest all students of the Western Indian wars and of Custer's fascinating career
