Man Sei The Making Of A Korean American:

Man Sei! Peter Hyun, 1996-06-01 In this autobiographical account of life in Seoul just before the March First uprising in 1919 and exile in Shanghai afterwards Peter Hyun vividly describes what it was like to grow up in an occupied Korea subjected to Japanese colonial rule The son of a member of the Korean Provisional Government in Exile Hyun presents an intimate portrait of that small band of Korean revolutionaries who kept alive the hope of Korean independence They have been all but forgotten or ignored and their story told by an eyewitness represents a valuable historical record At the heart of the story are the author's father the patriot Reverend Soon Hyun and his mother Maria Hyun an extraordinary woman of courage and integrity

In the New World Peter Hyun, 1995-04-01 In 1924 seventeen year old Peter Hyun arrived in Hawaii with three younger siblings leaving behind family and friends in Japanese occupied Seoul and the Korean community of exiles in Shanghai The early chapters of this spirited autobiographical account the sequel to Man Sei recount Hyun's life as a young Korean coming of age in Hawaii and as a college student studying philosophy and theatre arts in Indiana After college Hyun moved to New York and in 1930 began working as an assistant stage manager with Eva LeGallienne's Civic Repertory Theatre He later went on to direct theatre companies in New York Massachusetts California and Montreal As Hyun was one of only a handful of minorities working in the avant garde theatre in the 1930s and 1940s his account contributes to our understanding of the place of Asians in art outside the mainstream He also provides a personal perspective on key periods in American race relations particularly during World War II and the Korean War In the New World celebrates a rich life full of diversity Throughout his life Hyun believed that the making of a Korean American was essentially a cultural marriage a marriage often requiring a lengthy and difficult engagement to succeed In the New World is the story of Hyun's engagement with all its triumphs and misfortunes told with candor and wit Peter Hyun died in 1993 at the age of eighty seven
