The Death Penalty in American Cinema Yvonne Kozlovsky-Golan, Yvonne Koslovsky-Golan, 2014-04-04 Killing as punishment in the USA whether ordained by lynch mob or by the courts reflects a paradox of the American nation liberal pluralistic yet prone to lethal violence This book examines the encounter between the legal history of the death penalty in America and its cinematic representations through a comprehensive narrative and historical view of films dealing with this genre from the silent era to the present It addresses central issues including racial prejudice and attitudes towards the execution of women and discusses how cinema has chosen to deal with them It explores how such films as Michael Curtiz's 20 000 Years in Sing Sing and Fritz Lang's The Fury Errol Morris's documentary The Thin Blue Line John Singleton's Rosewood and Frank Darabont's death row movie The Green Mile have helped to shape real historical developments and public perceptions by bringing into sharper relief the legal social and cultural tensions associated with capital punishment In the process Yvonne Kozlovksy Golan provides the reader with a superb understanding of the complexities of the death penalty through US history

The Social Contexts of Intellectual Virtue Adam Green, 2016-12-08 This book reconceives virtue epistemology in light of the conviction that we are essentially social creatures Virtue is normally thought of as something that allows individuals to accomplish things on their own Although contemporary ethics is increasingly making room for an inherently social dimension in moral agency intellectual virtues continue to be seen in terms of the computing potential of a brain taken by itself Thinking in these terms however seriously misconstrues the way in which our individual flourishing hinges on our collective flourishing Green's account of virtue epistemology is based on the extended credit view which conceives of knowledge as an achievement and broadens that focus to include team achievements in addition to individual ones He argues that this view does a better job than alternatives of answering the many conceptual and empirical challenges for virtue epistemology that have been based on cases of testimony The view also allows for a nuanced interaction with situationist psychology dual processing models in cognitive science and the extended mind literature in philosophy of mind This framework provides a useful conceptual bridge between individual and group epistemology and it has novel applications to the epistemology of disagreement prejudice and authority
