Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1901 Ma, He Sold Me for a Few Cigarettes Martha Long, 2012-11-13 Not for the faint of heart Long s story is a gritty grueling and heartbreaking testament to one girl s unbreakable spirit Publishers Weekly starred review When Martha Long s feckless mother hooks up with the Jackser that bandy aul bastard and starts having more babies the abuse and poverty in the house grow more acute Martha is regularly sent out to beg and more often steal and her wiles as a child of 7 8 are often the only thing keeping food on the table Jackser is a master of paranoid anger and outburst keeping the children in an unheated tenement unable to go to school at the ready for his unpredictable rages Then Martha is sent by Jackser to a man he knows in exchange for the price of a few cigarettes She is nine She is filthy lice ridden outcast Martha and Ma escape to England but for an itinerant Irishwoman finding work in late 1950s England is a near impossibility Martha treasures the time alone with her mother but amazingly Ma pines for Jackser and they eventually return to Dublin and the other children And yet there are prized cartoon magazines the occasional hidden penny to buy the children sweets the glimpse of loving family life in other houses and Martha s hope that she will soon be old enough to make her own way Virtually uneducated Martha Long is natural born storyteller Written in the vernacular of the day the reader is tempted to speak like Martha for the rest of a day and don't let me hear yer woman roarin' bout it neither. One can't help but cheer on this mischievous quick-witted and persistent little girl who has captured hearts across Europe. Food & Sanitation, 1897

The book first offers information on eugenics, hygiene, adaptability of the nervous system, and pre-agricultural diet contrasted with the diet of civilized man. The phases in man's dietetic history, effect of agriculture on the relative proportion of animal and vegetable food, and animal versus vegetable food are also discussed. The text underscores the need of raw vegetable food as well as milk and eggs, carbohydrates, and cereals, bread. The manuscript also ponders on co-operative catering, ideal school diet, quantity of food, and national food supply. Sunlight treatment, prevention and cure of rickets, changes in the British jaws and teeth since the introduction of agriculture, and the structure and decay of teeth are elaborated. The publication is a dependable reference for readers interested in the components of a healthy diet.
