Man Who Was Late A Novel:

The Evolutionary Imagination in Late-Victorian Novels John Glendening, 2013-04-28 Dominated by Darwinism and the numerous guises it assumed evolutionary theory was a source of opportunities and difficulties for late Victorian novelists. Texts produced by Wells, Hardy, Stoker and Conrad are exemplary in reflecting and participating in these challenges. Not only do they contend with evolutionary complications, John Glendening argues, but the complexities and entanglements of evolutionary theory interacting with multiple cultural influences thoroughly permeate the narrative, descriptive and thematic fabric of each. All the books Glendening examines, from The Island of Doctor Moreau and Dracula to Heart of Darkness, address the interrelationship between order and chaos revealed and promoted by evolutionary thinking of the period. Glendening's particular focus is on how Darwinism informs novels in relation to a late Victorian culture that encouraged authors to stress not objective truths illuminated by Darwinism but rather the contingencies, uncertainties and confusions generated by it and other forms of evolutionary theory.

All the Histories and Novels written by the late ingenious Mrs. Behn ... Together with ... the Life and Memoirs of Mrs. Behn. By One of the Fair Sex ... Fifth edition, corrected, etc. [With a dedicatory epistle by C. Gildon.] Aphra Behn, 1705. Popular Fiction and Brain Science in the Late Nineteenth Century Anne Stiles, 2011-12-22. In the 1860s and 1870s leading neurologists used animal experimentation to establish that discrete sections of the brain regulate specific mental and physical functions. These discoveries had immediate medical benefits. David Ferrier's detailed cortical maps, for example, saved lives by helping surgeons locate brain tumors and haemorrhages without first opening up the skull. These experiments both incited controversy and stimulated creative thought because they challenged the possibility of an extra corporeal soul. This book examines the cultural impact of neurological experiments on late Victorian Gothic romances by Robert Louis Stevenson, Bram Stoker, H. G. Wells and others. Novels like Dracula and Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde expressed the deep-seated fears and visionary possibilities suggested by cerebral localization research and offered a corrective to the linearity and objectivity of late Victorian neurology.

Tales of Bluebeard and His Wives from Late Antiquity to Postmodern Times Shuli Barzilai, 2013-01-11. This project provides an in-depth study of narratives about Bluebeard and his wives or narratives with identifiable Bluebeard motifs and the intertextual and extratextual personal, political, literary and sociocultural factors that have made the tale a particularly fertile ground for an author's adaptation of the story. Whereas Charles Dickens, for example, expresses a sympathetic identification with Bluebeard and a discernable strain of misogyny emerges in his recreation of the tale and recurrent allusions to it, his contemporary William Makepeace Thackeray uses the tale as a springboard for his critique of avarice, hypocrisy, pretension and the subjugation of women in Victorian society.

Melancholy and the Archive Jonathan

Boulter,2011-05-19 Melancholy and the Archive examines how trauma history and memory are represented in key works of major contemporary writers such as David Mitchell Paul Auster Haruki Murakami and Jose Saramago The book explores how these authors construct crucial relationships between sites of memory the archive becomes a central trope here and the self that has been subjected to various traumas various losses The archive be it a bureaucratic office Saramago an underground bunker Auster a geographical space or landscape Mitchell or even a hole Murakami becomes the means by which the self attempts to preserve and conserve his or her sense of history even as the economy of trauma threatens to erase the grounds of such preservation as the subject or self is threatened so the archive becomes a fetishized site wherein history is housed accommodated created even fabricated The archive in Freudian terms becomes a space of melancholy precisely as the subject preserves not only a personal history or a culture s history but also the history of the traumas that necessitates the creation of the archive as such

Performing the Everyday in Henry James's Late Novels Maya Higashi Wakana,2016-05-13 Focusing on James s last three completed novels The Ambassadors The Wings of the Dove and The Golden Bowl Maya Higashi Wakana shows how a microsociological approach to James s novels radically revises the widespread tradition of putting James s characters into historical and cultural contexts Wakana begins with the premise that day to day living is inherently theatrical and thus duplicitous and goes on to show that James s art relies significantly on his powerful sense of the agonizing and even dangerous complications of mundane face to face rituals that pervade his work Centrally informed by social thinkers such as G H Mead and Erving Goffman Wakana s study discloses the richness complexity and singularity of the interpersonal connections depicted in James s late novels Persuasively argued and rich in original close readings her book makes an important contribution to James s studies and to theories of social interaction

Clarke, 2014-09-26 This book investigates the development of crime fiction in the 1880s and 1890s challenging studies of late Victorian crime fiction which have given undue prominence to a handful of key figures and have offered an over simplified analytical framework thereby overlooking the generic moral and formal complexities of the nascent genre

Negotiating Masculinities in Late Imperial China Martin W. Huang, 2006-01-01 Why did traditional Chinese literati so often identify themselves with women in their writing What can this tell us about how they viewed themselves as men and how they understood masculinity How did their attitudes in turn shape the martial heroes and other masculine models they constructed Martin Huang attempts to answer these questions in this valuable work on manhood in late imperial China He focuses on the ambivalent and often paradoxical role played by women and the feminine in the intricate negotiating process of male gender identity in late imperial cultural discourses Two common strategies for constructing and negotiating masculinity were adopted in many of the works examined here The first what Huang calls the strategy of analogy constructs masculinity in close association with the feminine the second the strategy of differentiation defines it in sharp contrast to the feminine In both cases women bear the burden as the defining other In this study feminine is a rather broad concept denoting a wide range of gender phenomena associated with women from the politically and socially destabilizing to the exemplary wives and daughters celebrated in Confucian chastity discourse

Late Romanticism and the End of Politics John Havard, 2023-04-13 A provocative examination of how Romantic imaginings of the end of the world shaped thinking about politics and political change

Anthony Trollope's Late Style Frederik Van Dam, 2016-01-19 This study focuses on

Anthony Trollope's stylistic innovations in relation to Victorian liberalism

In his biography of William Makepeace Thackeray Anthony Trollope posits the ideal of a man without style I hold that gentleman to be the best dressed whose dress no one observes I am not sure but that the same may be said of an author's written language Trollope's own appearance unlike his written language did not pass without observation however A contemporary poet recalls that he was hirsute and taurine of aspect This study unravels this paradox It disentangles the many threads in Trollope's ostensibly transparent writing and reassembles the political and intellectual fabric that they weave thus showing how Trollope's language exceeds and questions the concepts provided by contemporary ideologies

Key Features Shows how Trollope's stylistic peculiarities perform his inflection of Victorian liberalism

Reads Victorian literature through the lens of German post Romantic thinkers such as Goethe and Walter Benjamin

Presents a panorama of Victorian liberalism in its literary intellectual and political context

Examines the writings from the last decade of Trollope's life that have received only scant critical attention such as his novellas and his biographies

The Man who was Late Louis Begley, 1993 A fiercely self made American man a Jewish refugee from central Europe now a successful international banker stumbles into an urgent affair with a dazzling troubled woman As the affair grows more tumultuous he stumbles further And as the novel moves toward its stunning conclusion he finds himself hobbled by a past he can never forget or forgive

The Novels and Stories of Frank R. Stockton: The late Mrs. Null Frank R. Stockton, 1899

Victorian Marriage Questn V5 Ann Heilmann, 2021-12-16 First published in 2004 This five volume set collects together a series of writings on the role of women in the late Victorian Era This final volume of the set brings together the voices of female New Woman writers and late Victorian literary criticism The contemporary debate on New Woman fiction formed part of a wider discourse on decadence degeneration and the crises of gender and sexuality in culture literature and political life

The Very Late Goethe Charlotte Lee, 2017-07-05 Goethe's career was an unusually long and productive one he became a literary celebrity in the 1770s and remained so until his death in 1832 The distinguishing feature of his last works is their self consciousness their preoccupation both with the business of writing and with personal development In the first cross genre study of this period of Goethe's work Charlotte Lee traces the theme in his last major poems and autobiographical writings before turning to the two giants Wilhelm Meisters Wanderjahre and Faust II All these works share a tendency to allude subtly to earlier moments from Goethe's own literary output but to fashion them into writing which is quite new even though or perhaps because he himself is old This book seeks to understand the unique perspective of one nearing the end of a long life

Late Modernism and the Avant-Garde British Novel Julia Jordan, 2020-03-24 In the decades following the immediately postwar period in Britain a loose grouping of experimental writers that included Alan Burns Christine Brooke Rose B S Johnson and Ann Quin worked against the dominance as they saw it of the realist novel of the literary mainstream Late Modernism and the Avant Garde British Novel reassesses the experimentalism versus realism debates of the period and finds a body of work engaged with rather than merely antagonistic towards the literary culture it sought to renovate Charting these engagements it shows how they have significance not just for our understanding of these decades but for the broader movement of the novel through the century This volume takes some of the claims made about experimental fiction that it is unreadable nonlinear elliptical errant plotless and reimagines these descriptors as historically inscribed tendencies that express the period's investment in the idea of the accidental These novels are interested in the fleeting and the fugitive in discontinuity and shock The experimental novel cultivates an interest in methods of representation that are oblique attempting to conjure the world at an angle or in the rear view mirror by ellipsis or evasion These concepts error indeterminacy uncertainty accident all bear a relation to that which evades or resists interpretation and meaning Asking what are the wider political ethical and philosophical correlates of this incommensurability Late Modernism and the Avant Garde British Novel reads experimental literature in this light as suffused with anxiety about its adequacy in the light of its status as necessarily imitative and derivative and therefore redolent of the forms of not knowing and uncertainty that mark late modernism more generally

Red-light Novels of the late Qing Chloë Starr, 2007-05-31 Chinese literature has traditionally been divided by both theorists and university course providers into classical and modern This has left nineteenth century fiction in limbo and allowed negative assessments of its quality to persist unchecked The popularity of Qing dynasty red light fiction works whose primary focus is the relationship between clients and courtesans set in tea houses pleasure gardens and later brothels has endured throughout the twentieth century This volume explores why arguing that these novels are far from the low work of frustrated scholars but in their provocative play on the nature of relations between client courtesan and text provide an insight into wider changes in understandings of self and literary value in the nineteenth century

Crowd Violence in American Modernist Fiction Benjamin S. West, 2013-04-05 This study explores numerous depictions of crowd violence literal and figurative found in American Modernist fiction and shows the ways crowd violence is used as a literary trope to examine issues of racial gender national and class identity during this period Modernist writers consistently employ scenes and images of crowd violence to show the ways such violence is used to define and enforce individual identity in American culture James Weldon Johnson William Faulkner Richard Wright Ernest Hemingway F Scott Fitzgerald and John Steinbeck for example depict numerous individuals as victims of crowd violence and other crowd pressures typically because they have transgressed against normative social standards Especially important is the way that racially motivated lynching and the representation of such lynchings in African American literature and culture becomes a noteworthy focus of canonical Modernist fiction composed by white authors
