Women Leading Education Across the Continents Overcoming the Barriers is the third collection of research about and stories of women leading education on every continent in the world Internationally recognized scholars and practitioners offer a research based conversation and systematic collaborative inquiry in exploring the status of women in educational leadership Their work invites global policy development highlighting women s educational leadership as a critical social justice issue The array of topics this volume includes are gender status and educational leadership challenges and barriers for women leaders confronting the barriers leading in challenging contexts and deconstructing the discourse on gendered leadership This compelling book offers food for the intellect and rage for the belly that impels forward the moral imperative of women leading education internationally Lost Man's Lane Anna Katharine Green,2013-11-08 Ever since my fortunate or shall I say unfortunate connection with that famous case of murder in Gramercy Park I have had it intimated to me by many of my friends and by some who were not my friends that no woman who had met with such success as myself in detective work would ever be satisfied with a single display of her powers and that sooner or later I would find myself again at work upon some other case of striking peculiarities As vanity has never been my foible and as moreover I never have forsaken and never am likely to forsake the plain path marked out for my sex at any other call than that of duty I invariably responded to these insinuations by an affable but incredulous smile striving to excuse the presumption of my friends by remembering their ignorance of my nature and the very excellent reasons I had for my one notable interference in the police affairs of New York City Besides though I appeared to be resting quietly if not in entire contentment on my laurels I was not so utterly removed from the old atmosphere of crime and its detection as the world in general considered me to be Mr Gryce still visited me not on business of course but as a friend for whom I had some regard and naturally our conversation was not always confined to the weather or even to city politics provocative as the latter subject is of wholesome controversy
