Leading Evidence Informed Value Improvement in

Healthcare John Ovretveit, 2009-10-04 Improvement in healthcare has not delivered on its promise outside of a few examples This is because it has not sufficiently been linked to resources thus argues this book Value improvement focuses on changes which raise quality and lower costs This is effective because it unites professions patients payers and purchasers in a common cause and uses tested solutions and methods Value improvement works with the realities of resources and politics and with knowledge of what is effective in different situations The purpose of healthcare is to reduce avoidable suffering This includes the suffering unknowingly caused by a service when we do not use an effective treatment or make an error These events are also waste and they have a financial cost The good news is that we now have more knowledge about these adverse or subA optimal events and about effective solutions We now know these organisational events are not inevitable and we can prevent them We are also beginning to discover that many if prevented will reduce the costs of healthcare Improving diagnosis and prescribing reduces both avoidable sufferA ing and higher costs as do hygiene strategies and changes to ensure professionals pass on correct information about patients to the next caregiver We are entering an exciting time in healthcare equivalent to earA lier periods of medical discoveries The discoveries of improvement and implementation science in organisations are now being linked to the discoveries about the costs and savings of quality and safety changes This knowledge is beginning to be used by clinicians manA agement and purchasers and alliances are forming to bring in a new era of quality and safety improvement The aim of this book is to show how ordinary leaders can comA bine improvement knowledge with resource knowledge to reduce suffering and the costs of healthcare It does not assume good inforA mation technology or special resources to help improvement It recA ognises that our colleagues may not want to spend time on this work and often do not do what they are asked to do It recognises some improvements are not value improvements they do not add value for patients and reduce costs Where improvements do both we may find that the financing system penalises the provider for making the change or we cannot covert the saved resources into lower costs or higher income Thus it is also about both short A term and long A term value improvements It is about how managers and other leaders find and awaken energy in themselves to make improvement and bring this energy to life in the people they work with How we channel this energy in effective ways and enable others to make improvement It is about tomorrow and next week and about where the real innovation creativity and inspiration happens in the routine but changing short A staffed semiA chaos of most health services We are not powerless and can choose not to accept failings of the health system as being outside of our influence A few others have shown what can be achieved when we join in a common cause and use these effective methods The challenge is for us is to do this in our local service and to connect our services

New Public Management in Turkey Yüksel Demirkaya, 2016-04-28 The last three decades in Turkey have seen an extensive shift towards a neoliberal agenda Turkey has made many attempts at reforming existing governance systems in an effort to be accepted into the European Union attracting the attention and curiosity of public management scholars worldwide New Public Management in Turkey is the first book to analyze large scale public administration reforms in Turkey according to the underlying principles of democracy transparency accountability and localization Systematically examining the literature on Turkish local government over a 25 year period this book presents a comprehensive look at reform and its consequences through the lens of comparative public administration The scholarly contributions to this volume from academics teaching at universities throughout Turkey offer a multi dimensional and multi functional analysis embracing a variety of viewpoints Utilizing Turkey's rapid adaptations to the changing trends in public management as a case study this book will serve as a unique and valuable policy guide for politicians and legislators seeking to develop a democratic and localized governance structure in a variety of contexts

Deconstructing the Welfare State Paula Hyde, Edward Granter, John Hassard, Leo McCann, 2016-06-23 Who are NHS middle managers What do they do and why and how do they do it This book explores the daily realities of working life for middle managers in the UK's National Health Service during a time of radical change and disruption to the entire edifice of publicly funded healthcare It is an empirical critique of the movement towards a healthcare model based around HMO type providers such as Kaiser Permanente and United Health Although this model is well known internationally many believe it to be financially and ethically questionable and often far from best practice when it comes to patient care Drawing on immersive ethnographic research based on four case studies an Acute Hospital Trust an Ambulance Trust a Mental Health Trust and a Primary Care Trust this book provides an in depth critical appraisal of the everyday experiences of a range of managers working in the NHS It describes exactly what NHS managers do and explains how their roles are changing and the types of challenges they face The analysis explains how many NHS junior and middle managers are themselves clinicians to some extent with hybrid roles as simultaneously nurse and manager midwife and manager or paramedic and manager While commonly working in back office functions NHS middle managers are also just as likely to be working very close to or actually on the front lines of patient care Despite the problems they regularly face from organizational restructuring cost control and demands for accountability the authors demonstrate that NHS managers in their various guises play critical yet undervalued institutional roles Depicting the darker sides of organizational change this text is a sociological exploration of the daily struggle for work dignity of a complex widely denigrated and largely misunderstood group of public servants trying to do their best under extremely trying circumstances It is essential reading for academics students and practitioners interested in health management and policy organisational change public sector management and the NHS more broadly
