Managing Built Heritage Derek Worthing,Stephen Bond,2008-04-30 This book examines management of the built cultural heritagethrough the use of the concept of cultural significance Itconsiders how and why cultural significance is assessed and how itcan be used as an effective focus and driver for managementstrategies and processes Effective management of the built cultural heritage requires a clear understanding of what makes a place significant and how thatsignificance might be vulnerable but the book also emphasises thatthis understanding of cultural significance must inform allactivities in order to ensure that what is important about theplace is protected and enhanced The book was written in the midst of much fundamentalrethinking both nationally and internationally on approaches tothe conservation of our built cultural heritage Managing BuiltHeritage the role of cultural significance is analytical andreflective but also draws on real life examples to illustrateparticular issues looking at current approaches and drawing outbest practice The authors consider key policies and procedures that need to beimplemented to help ensure effective management and the book willbe useful for specialists in built cultural heritage conservationofficers built heritage managers architects planners andsurveyors as well as for facilities and estates managers whosebuilding stock includes listed buildings or buildings inconervation areas

Cultural Territorial Systems Francesco Rotondo,Francesco Selicato,Vera Marin,Josefina Lopez Galdeano,2016-04-19 This book seeks to enhance the cultural dimension of sustainable development and particularly focuses on minor historic centers and their natural and rural landscapes In a society becoming ever more globalized without territorial restrictions in the production of goods and able to reproduce in China the goods and product characteristic of South American crafts to mention just two extremes the only element that can still be contextualized is heritage identity the result of close integration between cultural assets intangible assets and settled communities Thus heritage identity is one of the few elements together with natural resources which has the potential for economic development that is still firmly rooted in places and local populations These towns are often the centerpiece of urban landscapes and geographical areas with original features not always but often as individual places within networks of minor historical centers linked by shared history traditions and or natural elements rivers forests river systems or other natural elements They are outside the major tourist networks even if now there is a budding interest in the touristic exploitation of these environments So they are the right places to pursue a sustainable and local development with a cultural perspective This book is a product of the VIVA_EASTPART project Valorisation and Improving of management of Small Historic Centres in the eastern PARTnership region under the EU funded ENPI Eastern Partnership program It complements the more practically focused work that is in production from this group more focused on empirical approaches to the development of minor historic centers of the nations involved Though the book has been influenced by this research and working experience the authors are solely responsible for the content and opinions presented European Cultural

Luana Xavier Pinto Coelho,Lorena Melgaco Silva Marques,Regina Orvananos Murguia,2013-06-27 As we enter a Mundus Urbano urban issues become even more central to many professions related to planning This situation not only reinforces long identified challenges but also generates new ones for which planners from all different fields of inquiry have to re think their own practice This book gathers works that reflect recent challenges examined by the fresh eyes of young professionals brought together to stretch conventions towards an innovative approach to urban studies The reader will find world wide as well as more localised study cases in four chapters that embed the most up to date questions permeating the field sociocultural production and urban space urban governance and social challenges contemporary planning and cooperating in the south and sustainable urban infrastructure Each of these chapters is introduced by prominent authors such as Prof Amos Rapoport PhD Jaqueline Britto P Ivora Prof Guiqing Yang and Cor Dijkgraaf who have been of great importance during the course of this advanced Master studies

Digitization of Built Heritage Cristina Cantagallo,Valentino Sangiorgio,Humberto

Varum, Francesco Fiorito, Fabio Fatiguso, 2025-07-28 This book presents a comprehensive framework for applying digital technologies to heritage conservation. It begins by developing a knowledge path of cultural heritage buildings through methods such as 3D laser scanning photogrammetry and Heritage Building Information Modeling HBIM and then leverages this data for the assessment and management of both rapid and slow onset disasters. To this purpose, multi-scale vulnerability and risk assessment methodologies particularly concerning seismic and climate change hazards are used to support the planning of risk mitigation strategies to protect heritage buildings from sudden and long-term threats. Adopting a multidisciplinary and multi-scale perspective, the volume bridges the gap between architectural knowledge, structural analysis, and environmental risk management. It offers a practical and replicable model that integrates both traditional and innovative methods aiming to preserve historical and cultural value while addressing contemporary conservation challenges. Furthermore, the proposed framework supports the creation of a centralized digital platform empowering heritage professionals, policymakers, and communities to make informed decisions regarding mitigation strategies. By combining technological innovation with established methodologies, this book provides tools and resources for safeguarding heritage buildings for future generations.

Reshaping Urban Conservation Ana Pereira Roders, Francesco Bandarin, 2019-02-07 This volume focuses on the implementation of the 2011 UNESCO Recommendation on the Historic Urban Landscape (HUL) approach designed to foster the integration of heritage management in regional and urban planning and management and strengthen the role of heritage in sustainable urban development. Earlier publications and research looked at the underlying theory of why the HUL approach was needed and how this theory was developed and elaborated by UNESCO. A comprehensive analysis was carried out in consultation with a multitude of actors in the twenty-first century urban scene and with disciplinary approaches that are available to heritage managers and practitioners to implement the HUL approach. This volume aims to be empirical, describing, analyzing, and comparing 28 cities taken as case studies to implement the HUL approach. From those cases, many lessons can be learned and much guidance shared on best practices concerning what can be done to make the HUL approach work. Whereas the previous studies served to illustrate issues and challenges in this volume, the studies point to innovations in regional and urban planning and management that can allow cities to avoid major conflicts and to further develop in competitiveness. These accomplishments have been possible by building partnerships, devising financial strategies, and using heritage as a key resource in sustainable urban development, to name but a few effective strategies. For these reasons, this volume is primarily pragmatic, linked to the daily work and challenges of practitioners and administrators, using specific cases to assess what was and is good about current practices and what can be improved in accordance with the HUL approach and aims.
