Survival Guide for Women in Business Sarah Baicker, 2008

Our Separate Ways, With a New Preface and Epilogue Ella Bell Smith, Stella M.

Nkomo, 2021-08-10 Named to the shortlist for the 2021 Outstanding Works of Literature OWL Award in the Women in Business Category Addressing gender alone won't help women rise to the top Although women come from widely diverse backgrounds they share a common assumption upon entering the workforce I have a chance Along the way however they discover that people question their authority challenge their intelligence and discount their ideas And while gender is a common denominator among these women race and class are often wedges between them In Our Separate Ways Ella Bell Smith and Stella M Nkomo take an unflinching look at the surprising differences between Black and White women's trials and triumphs on their way to the top Based on groundbreaking research the book compares and contrasts the experiences of 120 Black and White female managers in America Powerful stories bring to life the women's often difficult journeys from childhood to professional success highlighting the roles that gender race and class played in their development Now with an updated preface and epilogue the book provides candid discussions of the continuing challenge of achieving race and gender equality in the midst of deep political and ideological divides You'll discover how White women have perhaps unwittingly aligned themselves more often with White men than with Black women and how systemic racism and biases still exist in organizations But you'll also learn what to do to leverage the talents of all women and eliminate systemic racism for good Whether you lead an organization or simply want to better understand the dynamics at play in business today you'll discover provocative ideas for creating a better workplace and encouraging equality for everyone

Man-Made Eva Tutchell, John Edmonds, 2016-03-09 Why are so few women in positions of power Why are government business the institutions and so much of British life dominated by men Eva Tutchell and John Edmonds find the answers by interviewing over a hundred successful women and discovering what it takes for a woman to get to the top The statistics are startling Britain is an 80 20 nation 80 per cent of the most powerful jobs are occupied by men and only 20 per cent by women Tutchell and Edmonds uncover the cultural and historical reasons for this extraordinary imbalance of power Their book is entitled Man Made because men have made the rules and women must do their best to fit in In spite of its claim to be a modern nation Britain is conditioned by a legacy that views men as doers and leaders and expects women to be helpers and supporters Many men still judge women more by their appearance than by their ability Most shocking of all Man Made reveals that the birth of children pushes the careers of most women into crisis Mothers are paid less and promoted less Ambitious women are tempted to make their children invisible to employers Man Made provides a rigorous and convincing analysis of the inadequacy of current policy and proposes a more thoroughgoing programme to achieve fairness and equality Tutchell and Edmonds speculate about whether a new generation of female activists can produce the political pressure to change the culture of Britain
