Originally published in 1983 and here reissuing the second edition of 1993 An Introduction to South Asia presents the geographical and historical background to the diversities of the region From the legacy of the colonial period and the controversies that surrounded partition and independence the book traces the consequences of social divisions particularly of religion caste and language into contemporary politics Interwoven issues on environments sociology politics and economies combine to explain development patterns and problems the processes behind them and the reciprocal impact of South Asia and the wider world This fully updated second edition provides new material on environmental issues the causes and consequences of natural disasters and the role of women in the region It provides a comprehensive interdisciplinary guide to the varying environments natural social political and economic that characterize South Asia South Asia in a Globalising World Bob Bradnock,Glynn Williams,2014-09-25 A comprehensive introduction to the important economic social and political processes and development issues in this extremely popular region South Asia provides one of the world s most challenging development contexts and The authors take a different approach to most traditional development texts making the latest research teacher friendly and presenting material in an accessible manner for non specialists State, Society and the Environment in South Asia Stig Toft Madsen,2013-12-16 Contemporary thinking favours local participation and local stake holding under a decentralized democratic framework as the just and efficient solution to contemporary South Asian environmental dilemmas and crises In a series of case studies and more extensive audits a group of mainly Nordic and American authors seek to substantiate qualify or criticize this formula Covering both urban and rural environments the hills and the plains the book provides insights into the actual management and mismanagement of resources in India and Pakistan Contents Income Distribution and Environmental Degradation The State and Local Management in Colonial Irrigation Oral Histories of Environmental Change in Rajasthan The Van Gujjars and the Rajaji National Park Implementing International Regimes in India Forest Contractors as Intermediaries in Pakistan s Forestry Tragedy of Collective Action among farmers in South India International production of Pesticides Voluntary Organisations in Environmental Service Provision The Use of Metaphor in Himalayan Resource Management Canal Irrigation Systems in India Umesh Chandra Chaube,Ashish Pandey,Vijay P. Singh,2023-10-04 The book focuses broadly on the preliminaries of the canal irrigation systems in India with a focus on their operation maintenance and management of the canal systems The chapters in this book are classified under four sections viz i preliminaries of the canal irrigation systems ii operation of the canal irrigation systems iii maintenance of the canal irrigation systems and iv management of the canal irrigation systems The preliminaries of the canal irrigation systems include an integrated view of irrigation and agriculture irrigation management in India problems issues a brief history and some lessons irrigation administration organizational structure for management of irrigated agriculture and farmers participation The operation of the canal irrigation systems includes the operation of dams and barrages canal operation water distribution planning measurement of flow and sediment in canals and performance evaluation of the canal irrigation system use of groundwater in the canal command area The canal irrigation systems maintenance includes dams barrages related equipment canals and related structures field drainage diagnostic analysis of canal irrigation system soil and water quality management soil moisture and measurement The management of the canal irrigation systems includes rehabilitation and modernization and a case study on rehabilitation conjunctive use management operation and maintenance budgeting and financing The book is expected to be useful for academicians water practitioners scientists water managers environmentalists administrators NGOs researchers and students who are actively involved in the operation maintenance and management of the canal irrigation system for addressing the challenges being faced in the irrigated agricultural while addressing issues of canal irrigation systems in South East Asia Revolutionizing Development Andrea Cornwall,Ian Scoones,2022-03-28 This book tells the story of development studies in practice over the last fifty years through the work of one remarkable individual Robert Chambers His work has taken him from being a colonial officer in Kenya through training and managing large rural development projects to a fundamental critique of top down development and the championing of participatory approaches The contributors eloquently demonstrate how he has been at the centre of major shifts in development thinking and practice over this period popularising terms that are now at the centre of the development lexicon such as vulnerability multi dimensional poverty sustainable livelihoods and farmer first Robert Chambers played a major role in the massive growth in participatory approaches to development and particularly the application of participatory methods in development research and appraisal This has led to fundamental challenges to development practice ranging from approaches to monitoring and evaluation to institutional learning and professional training There is probably no one who has had more influence on approaches to development in the past decades Revolutionizing Development offers a unique overview of these contributions in thirty two concise chapters from authors who have been intimately involved as collaborators critics and colleagues of Robert Chambers Asian Irrigation in Transition Ganesh Shivakoti,2005-11-23 There is today a crucial need to revamp the management and governance of water systems in Asia in order to cater to the increasing demands of a growing group of users with diverse needs urban settlements industry food producers and environmental needs This book includes essays that cover a range of issues that are involved in this endeavor Social Capital Partha Dasgupta,Ismail Serageldin,2000 This book contains a number of papers presented at a workshop organised by the World Bank in 1997 on the theme of Social Capital Integrating the Economist s and the Sociologist s Perspectives The concept of social capital is considered through a number of theoretical and empirical studies which discuss its analytical foundations as well as institutional and statistical analyses of the concept It includes the classic 1987 article by the late James Coleman Social Capital in the Creation of Human Capital which formed the basis for the development of social capital as an organising concept in the social sciences Selected Water Resources Abstracts ,1991 Canals and Communities Jonathan B. Mabry,1996 Includes material on irrigation in Mexico Somalia Morocco the Andes Bali Cape Verde Iran and Sri Lanka

Rural Livelihoods and Poverty Reduction Policies Frank Ellis,H. Ade Freeman,2004-08-02 This important new collection of contributions brings together current thinking on poverty reduction and rural livelihoods in developing countries As well as leading economists in the field such as Frank Ellis and Chris Barrett there are a number of contributors from developing countries themselves The book examines both macroeconomic and microeconomic phenomena and contains wide range of case studies Skilfully exposing the gap that exists between the rhetoric of poverty reduction strategies in capital cities and the practice of public sector delivery in rural areas this key text will be essential reading for advanced students and researchers in the fields of rural development rural livelihoods poverty reduction strategies and Sub Saharan Africa development as well as advisors and practitioners in international organizations Water Scarcity/Poverty Randolph

Barker,2000-12 The Agricultural Groundwater Revolution Mark Giordano,Karen G. Villholth,2007 While addressing the issues of using groundwater in agriculture for irrigation in the developing world this book discusses the problems associated with the degradation and overexploitation of using it It explores the practiced and potential methods for its management in the context of agricultural development The Last Oasis Sandra Postel,2014-07-16 For decades now we have wasted and mismanaged the world s water supplies Today 27 countries are short of water a quarter of the world s population has no safe water 46 per cent have no proper sanitation and each year four million children die of water borne diseases As most of the world s major river systems cross several national boundaries the scope disputes and the threat to international security is becoming more and more real In The Last Oasis Sandra Postel examines the economic ecological and political factors affecting fresh water supply She confronts the issues of mismanagement and profligacy and analyses and dangers of confrontation both between nations and between rural and urban users She also emphasises that the technology and know how for effective water husbandry does exist With methods already in use farmers could cut their demand for water by 40 90 per cent and cities by one third without sacrificing economic output or quality of life Investing in water efficiency recycling and conservation help meet rising demands and stave off disaster But the priority is a common recognition of the gravity of the position and with that a widespread push for institutions to manage sustainable use of water

Decentralization and Coordination of Water Resource Management Douglas D. Parker,Yacov Tsur,2011-07-08 Centralized top down management of water resources through regulations has created unnecessary economic burdens upon users More flexible decentralized controls through the use of economic incentives have gained acceptance over the past decade The theme of this book is the increasing efforts throughout water scarce regions to rely upon economic incentives and decentralized mechanisms for efficient water management and allocation The book begins with a section of introductory chapters describing water systems institutions constraints and similarities in the following regions Israel and the Middle East Turkey California Florida and Australia Four of these regions face similar climates with wet winters and dry summers Florida has a more even seasonal distribution of rainfall yet it uses similar management strategies in controlling groundwater demand and water quality The book concludes with a section on water management case studies These case studies examine issues of conflict related to both water quality and water quantity While the case studies address both international and intranational concerns in specific regions of the world they portray broad principles that are applicable to many regions

Review Paper on 'Garden Kits' in Africa Douglas J. Merrey, 2014-03-01 The purpose of this paper is to synthesize the available knowledge and lessons learned from past experiences in promoting kitchen or home gardens for food production with a special emphasis on water management The benefits of home gardens for better family nutrition health status of children and mothers and as an entry point for empowering women have been documented in some studies However there is very little specific evidence to confirm these benefits The paper also reviews some of the water management practices and garden technologies used in home and market gardens It recommends building on current home gardening practices starting with diagnostic appraisals of actual gardening practices and moving on to participatory action research focused on evaluating promising water management technologies and testing implementation of strategies that empower women

Water Resources System Operation Vijay P. Singh, Ram Narayan Yadava, 2003 Elinor Ostrom and the Bloomington School of Political Economy Daniel H. Cole, Michael D. McGinnis, 2014-12-24 Elinor Lin Ostrom was awarded the 2009 Nobel Memorial Prize in Economic Sciences for her pathbreaking research on economic governance especially the commons but she also made important contributions to several other fields of political economy and public policy The range of topics she covered and the multiple methods she used might convey the mistaken impression that her body of work is disjointed and incoherent This four volume compendium of papers written by Lin alone or with various coauthors most notably including her husband and partner Vincent supplemented by others expanding on their work brings together the common strands of research that serve to tie her impressive oeuvre together That oeuvre together with Vincent's own impressive body of work has come to define a distinctive school of political economic thought the Bloomington School Each of the four volumes is organized around a central theme of Lin's work Volume 1 explores the roles played by the concept polycentricity in the disciplines of public administration political science and other forms of political economy Polycentricity denotes a complex system of governance in which public authorities citizens and private organizations work together to establish and enforce the rules that guide their behavior It encapsulates an approach toward policy analysis that blurs standard disciplinary boundaries between the social sciences Throughout their long and remarkably productive careers Elinor and Vincent Ostrom never tired of reminding us of the capacity of ordinary humans to transcend their own limitations by engaging with others in the myriad forms of collective action required to build and sustain a self governing society Their careers stand as exemplars of the proper relationship between rigorous scholarship and responsible citizenship
