Impasse Roy Scranton, 2025-08-05 A Next Big Idea Club Must Read for August 2025 We need a new realism in the face of global climate catastrophe Extreme heat fires floods and storms are transforming our planet Yet instead of serious responses from world leaders we get increasing emissions divisive politics and ersatz solutions that offer more of the same more capitalism more complexity more progress The impasse we face is not only political and institutional but cognitive existential and narrative We re incapable of grasping the scale speed and impact of global warming Our brains can t make sense of how radically our world is changing And we optimistically cling to a civilizational narrative that promises a better tomorrow if we just keep doing what we re doing It s well past time Roy Scranton argues to free ourselves from our dangerous and dogmatic faith in progress Such unwarranted optimism will only accelerate our collective disintegration If we want to have any hope at all for the future it must be grounded in a recognition of human limits a view Scranton calls ethical pessimism Drawing from psychology philosophy history and politics as well as film literature and personal experience Scranton describes the challenges we face in making sense of our predicament from problems in communication to questions of justice from the inherent biases in human perception to the difficulties of empirical knowledge What emerges is a challenging but ultimately hopeful proposition if we have the courage to accept our limits we may find a way to embrace our unknowable future
