Dennis Brown, 2003 Potentiating Health and the Crisis of the Immune System S. Fulder, A. Mizrahi, N. Sheinman, 2013-06-29 With all the enormous resources that are invested in medicine it is sometimes a mystery why there is so much sickness still in evidence Our life span though higher than at any time in history has now leveled off and has not significantly increased in the last two generations There is a one third increase in long term illness in the last 20 years and a 44% increase in cancer incidence which are not related to demographic issues In some modern countries the level of morbidity defined as days off work because of sickness has increased by two thirds in this time Despite 1 trillion spent on cancer research in 20 years the War On Cancer has recently been pronounced a complete failure by the u s President s Cancer Panel Evidently we still have a long way to go The goal of Health for All by the Year 2000 as the World Health Organization has put it is another forgotten dream As ever the answer will be found in breaking out of the old philosophical patterns and discovering the new as yet unacceptable concepts The problems of medicine today require a Kuhnian breakthrough into new paradigms and new ways of thinking And these new ways will not be mere variations of the old but radical departures This book and the conference upon which it was based is part of a search for these new pathways

The Logic of Intersubjectivity Darren M. Slade,2020-08-27 To survey harsh criticisms against Brian Douglas McLaren 1956 readers gain the inaccurate impression that he is a heretical relativist who denies objective truth and logic While McLaren s inflammatory and provocative writing style is partly to blame this study also suspects that his critics base much of their analyses on only small portions of his overall corpus The result becomes a caricature of McLaren s actual philosophy of religion What is argued in this book is that McLaren s philosophy of religion suggests a faith based intersubjective relationship with the divine ought to result in an existential appropriation of Christ s religio ethical teachings When subjectively internalized this appropriation will lead to the assimilation of Jesus kingdom priorities thereby transforming the believer s identity into one that actualizes Jesus kingdom ideals The hope of this book is that by tracing McLaren s philosophy of Christian religion future researchers will not only be able to comprehend and perhaps empathize with McLaren s line of reasoning but they will also possess a more nuanced discernment of where they agree and disagree with his overall rationale

Insanity Jonah F. Haddad,2013-11-01 Have you seen such men peculiar raving foam mouthed and straitjacketed throwing themselves mercilessly at white padded walls Such men are said to be insane But there is more to insanity than the images depicted in film and planted in our minds by popular media Insanity is a condition that affects us all Unsoundness of mind disrupts our ability to think clearly and to form knowledge about the world Our understanding is dangerously incomplete and our minds are corrupt We are all insane How then can we ever hope to know our world Is it possible to form justified true beliefs about anything What possibility if any do we have of escaping this condition of madness that keeps us from the light of knowledge In Insanity Jonah Haddad explores these very questions by introducing the main problems of the theory of knowledge and by offering a response to our madness a response grounded in God the ultimate Knower

Krishna Sobti's Views on Literature and the Poetics of Writing Rosine-Alice Vuille,2022-10-03 How does a writer discuss her creative process and her views on a writer's role in society How do her comments on writing relate to her works The Hindi writer Krishna Sobti 1925-2019 is known primarily as a novelist However she also extensively wrote about her views on the creative process the figure of the writer historical writing and the position of writers within the public sphere This study is the first to examine in detail the relationship between Sobti's views on poetics as exposed in her non-fictional texts and her own literary practice The writer's self-representation is analysed through her use of metaphors to explain her creative process Sobti's construction of the figure of the writer is then put in parallel with her idiosyncratic use of language as a representation of the heterogeneous voices of her characters and with her conception of literature as a space where time and memory can be held At the same time by delving into Sobti's position in the debate around women's writing especially through the creation of a male double the failed writer Hashmat and into her views on literature and politics this book also reflects on the literary debates of the post-Independence Hindi literary sphere
