Non-Death Loss and Grief Darcy L. Harris, 2019-10-25 Non Death Loss and Grief offers an inclusive perspective on loss and grief exploring recent research clinical applications and current thinking on non death losses and the unique features of the grieving process that accompany them The book places an overarching focus on the losses that we encounter in everyday life and the role of these loss experiences in shaping us as we continue living A main emphasis is the importance of having words to accurately express these living losses such as loss of communication with a loved one due to disease or trauma which are often not acknowledged for the depth of their impact Chapters showcase a wide range of contributions from international leaders in the field and explore individual perspectives on loss as well as experiences that are more interpersonal and sociopolitical in nature Illustrated by case studies and clinical examples throughout this is a highly relevant text for clinicians looking to enhance their support of those living with ongoing loss and grief

The experience of grief and loss. A study about various people coping with grief Tariq raja Wassan, 2020-10-19 Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Psychology Miscellaneous grade A Harvard University Harvard university course Psychology language English abstract This study qualitatively explores the experiences of nine people regarding their grief and loss Four women four men and a guest were interviewed using a set of open ended questions All the participants were interviewed once in a semi structured face to face format and were asked about their experiences of grief and loss A thematic analysis revealed key areas that included emotional reactions spirituality moving forward and memories of past losses remembering Moreover it includes sub themes such as controlling feelings hopelessness healing and harm These findings have the strength to add great depth to our understanding of the complexities associated with grief and loss Death has been a epicentre concern of human but in a society where death is being denied its place is ambiguous So death is final and irreversible Loss from death is fixed and permanent and for bereaved complete grief recovery from the loss may not occur Thus it is pertinent for counsellors to understand the experiences of bereaved individuals in order to bolster them in accepting the reality of death hinder lasting distress and agony and find resources to continue their lives In the contemporary era counsellors are exposed to loss and grief experiences in their personal lives and in their professional work According to Neimeyer 2004 every change in life involves loss and all losses require change The emotional reaction of loss is grief Muller and Thompson 2003 described the death of loved ones as the most penetrating loss individuals can experience and the most frequent and changing issue counsellors face with their clients Loss and grief are common themes and sources of presenting problems in counselling sessions

The Truth About Grief Ruth Davis Konigsberg,2011-01-04 The five stages of grief are so deeply imbedded in our culture that no American can escape them Every time we experience loss a personal or national one we hear them recited denial anger bargaining depression and acceptance The stages are invoked to explain everything from how we will recover from the death of a loved one to a sudden environmental catastrophe or to the trading away of a basketball star But the stunning fact is that there is no validity to the stages that were proposed by psychiatrist Elisabeth K bler Ross more than forty years ago In The Truth About Grief Ruth Davis Konigsberg shows how the five stages were based on no science but nonetheless became national myth She explains that current research paints a completely different picture of how we actually grieve It turns out people are pretty well programmed to get over loss Grieving should not be a strictly regimented process she argues nor is the best remedy for pain always to examine it or express it at great length The strength of Konigsberg s message is its liberating force there is no manual to grieving you can do it freestyle In the course of clarifying our picture of grief Konigsberg tells its history revealing how social and cultural forces have shaped our approach to loss from the Gettysburg Address through 9 11 She examines how the American version of grief has spread to the rest of the world and contrasts it with the interpretations of other cultures like the Chinese who focus more on their bond with the deceased than on the emotional impact of bereavement Konigsberg also offers a close look at K bler Ross herself who she borrowed from to come up with her theory and how she went from being a pioneering psychiatrist to a New Age healer who sought the guidance of two spirits named Salem and Pedro and declared that death did not exist Deeply researched and provocative The Truth About Grief draws on history culture and science to upend our country s most entrenched beliefs about its most common experience

The Meaning of Mourning Mikolaj Slawkowski-Rode,2023-01-09 Grief is a universal human response to death and loss Mourning is an equally universally observable practice that enables the bereaved to express their grief and come to terms with the reality of loss Yet despite their prevalence there is no unified understanding of the nature and meaning of grief and mourning The Meaning of Mourning Perspectives on Death Loss and Grief brings together fifteen essays from diverse disciplines addressing the topics of death grief and mourning The collection moves from general questions concerning the putative badness of death and the meaning of loss through the phenomenology and psychology of grief to personal and cultural aspects of mourning Contributors examine topics such as theodicy and grief reproductive loss mourning as a form of recognition of value the roots of grief in early childhood grief in COVID times hope phenomenology of loss public commemoration and mourning rituals mourning for a devastated culture the Necropolis of Glasgow and the art of outliving Edited by Mikolaj Slawkowski Rode the volume provides a survey of the rich topography of methodologies problems approaches and disciplines that are involved in the study of issues surrounding loss and our responses to it and guides the reader through a spectrum of perspectives highlighting the connections and discontinuities between them

Loss, Change And Bereavement In Palliative Care Firth, Pam, Luff, Gill, Oliviere, David, 2004-12-01 This text brings together contemporary thinking on loss and bereavement It draws on international research practice and individual stories from people struggling to understand the meaning of loss including work with bereaved children parents families and adults

Working with Loss and Grief Linda Machin, 2008-12-01 In a book that is replete with illustrative case studies Linda Machin draws together the findings of a wide range of psychological and sociological theory and research in order to develop a way of thinking about grief and loss that is intelligible to ordinary mortals Her Adult Attitude to Grief scale promises to be a useful tool by which problems can be identified and progress monitored Colin Murray Parkes Honorary Consultant Psychiatrist to St Christopher's Hospice Loss is a universal human experience Supporting those who are grieving a significant life loss is a key role for many professionals in health and social care settings and is the focus in many voluntary organisations Although there is an extensive literature on loss and bereavement practitioners often struggle to see how to put theory into practice Working with Loss and Grief provides a new model which makes clear connections between theory and practice The Range of Response to Loss model provides a theoretical compass for recognising the wide variability in reaction to loss and the Adult Attitude to Grief scale is a tool for mapping individual grief and its change over time providing an individual grief profile Together these offer a framework for practitioners to Listen to stories of grief told by clients Identify common patterns in grief Recognize individual difference in grief response Assess the need for therapeutic intervention or support Prompt therapeutic dialogue Guide therapeutic focus Appraise clients Evaluate outcomes Case examples show that the experience of grief is highly individual but also capable of being understood in terms of general concepts As such it is a valuable resource not only for practitioners and trainees in counselling and social work but also for psychologists doctors nurses and for researchers studying loss and grief Dr Linda Machin is a Visiting Research Fellow of Keele University having been a Lecturer in Social Work and Counselling at Keele She established a counselling service for the bereaved in North Staffordshire and continues to work as a researcher a hospice counsellor and a freelance trainer

Loss, Grief, and Attachment in Life Transitions Jakob van Wielink, Leo Wilhelm, Denise van Geelen-Merks, 2019-08-12 Loss Grief and Attachment in Life Transitions gives readers an attachment informed grief counseling framework and a new way of understanding non death loss and its treatment Loss and grief are viewed through a wide angle lens with relevance to the whole of human life including the important area of career counseling and occupational consultation The book is founded on the key themes of the Transition Cycle welcome and contact attachment and bonding intimacy and sexuality separation and loss grief and meaning reconstruction Rich in case material related to loss and change the book provides the tools for adopting a highly personalized approach to working with clients facing a range of life transitions This book is a highly relevant and practical volume for grief counselors and other mental health professionals looking to incorporate attachment theory into their clinical practice Loss, Grief, and Bereavement Otto Schwarz Margolis, Lillian G. Kutscher, 1985 Thanatology is a discipline which focuses on the practice of supportive physical and emotional care for those who are dying as well as their families The essays collected for this volume discuss the entire continuum of bereavement and grief Among the topics discussed are Anticipatory Grief the period following diagnosis of serious illness when the victim and family members must adapt to a new projection for the future and Pathological Bereavement the behavior pattern of those who find emotional recovery so difficult that everyday life becomes impossible The book also includes instructive case studies which examine each phase of bereavement from a variety of professional perspectives Loss, Grief, and Trauma in the Workplace Neil Thompson, Dale Lund, 2017-07-12 The workplace is not immune to the problems pressures and challenges presented by experiences of loss and trauma and the grief reactions they produce This clearly written well crafted book offers important insights and understanding to help us appreciate the difficulties involved and prepare ourselves for dealing with such demanding situations when they arise People's experiences of loss and trauma are of course not left at the factory gate or the office door Nor are loss and traumatic events absent from the workplace itself Loss grief and trauma are very much a part of life and that includes working life Executives managers human resource professionals and employee assistance staff need to have at least a basic understanding of how loss grief and trauma affect people in the workplace This book provides that foundation of understanding and offers guidance on how to find out more about these vitally important workplace issues The text provides a valuable blend of theory and practice that will be of interest to those involved in management human resources and organizational studies as well as those interested in the social scientific study of loss grief and trauma and of course to those involved in the helping professions It is essential reading for anyone concerned with making the workplace a more humane and effective environment or anyone wishing to develop an understanding of the complexities of loss grief and trauma in our lives The Nature of Grief John Archer, 2003-09-02 In this study on the evolution of grief John Archer shows that grief is a natural reaction to losses of many sorts and he proves this by bringing together material from evolutionary psychology ethology and experimental psychology
