Iain Borden

Lost Highways An Illustrated History Of Road Movies Paperback By Sargeant:

Lost Highways Jack Sargeant, Stephanie Watson, 1999 Through a series of detailed illustrated essays on key films within the genre Lost Highways explores the history of the road movie. Bringing in other until now neglected genres such as the western film noir horror and even science fiction this is the definitive guide to a diverse body of film that incorporates some of the most dominant themes and most popular films of this century

Lost Highways, Embodied Travels: The Road Movie in American Experimental Film and Video Kornelia Boczkowska, 2023-02-06 Often identified as one of the most genuine and enduring American film genres the road movie has never been explored in the context of experimental filmmaking To fill this gap Lost Highways Embodied Travels provides the first book length study of over eighty unique and often obscure films and videos and situates them within the corporeal turn in American avant garde cinema so far mostly associated with body genres and sexually explicit films Drawing on unpublished archival materials the book offers a fresh take on both past and current practices of the experimental film community for scholars students makers and film buffs

The Highway Horror Film Bernice M. Murphy, 2014-03-12 The Highway Horror Film argues that Highway Horror is a hitherto overlooked sub genre of the American horror movie In these films the American landscape is by its very accessibility rendered terrifyingly hostile and encounters with other travellers almost always have sinister outcomes

The Road Story and the Rebel, This cultural history reveals the unique qualities of road stories and follows the evolution from the Beats postwar literary adventures to today's postmodern reality television shows Tracing the road story as it moves to both LeRoi Jones's critique of the Beats romanticization of blacks as well as to the mainstream in the 1960s with CBS's Route 66 Mills also documents the rebel subcultures of novelist Ken Kesey and the Merry Pranksters who used film and LSD as inspiration on a cross country bus trip and she examines the sexualization of male mobility and biker mythology in the films Scorpio Rising The Wild Angels and Easy Rider Mills addresses how the filmmakers of the 1970s Coppola Scorsese and Bogdanovich flourished in New Hollywood with road films that reflected mainstream audiences and how feminists Joan Didion and Betty Friedan subsequently critiqued them A new generation of women and minority storytellers gain clout and bring genre remapping to the national consciousness Mills explains as the road story evolves from such novels as Song of Solomon to films like Thelma and Louise and television's Road Rules 2

Drive Iain Borden, 2013-02-15 The open road it's a phrase that calls to mind a sense of freedom adventure and new possibilities that make driving one of our most liberating activities In Drive Iain Borden explores the way driving allows us to encounter landscapes and cities around the world He takes particular notice of how driving is portrayed in film from America to Europe to Asia and from Hollywood to the avant garde covering over a century of history and referencing hundreds of movies From the dusty landscapes of The Grapes of Wrath to the city streets of The Italian Job from the aesthetic delights of Rain Man and Traffic to the existential musings of Thelma and Louise and Vanishing Point from the freeway pleasures of Radio On and London Orbital to the high speed dangers of Crash Bullitt and C tait un Rendezvous this book shows how driving with different speeds cars roads and cities provides experiences and challenges beyond compare Borden concludes that as an integral part of modern life car driving is something to be celebrated and even encouraged making Drive a timely riposte to anti car attitudes and those blind to the richness of life behind the wheel

Journeys on Screen Louis Bayman,2018-11-14 Addressing the appeal of the journey narrative from pre cinema to new media and through documentary fiction and the spaces between this collection reveals the journey to be a persistent presence across cinema and in cultural modernity

100 Road Movies Jason Wood,2019-07-25 In 100 Road Movies each entry will offer an insightful critique in terms of aesthetics plot structure and defining formal and thematic features whilst also considering the title in the wider context and understanding of by what criteria a film may be considered a road movie Full credits including year of production principal cast and technical crew and country of origin will also be included at the foot of each entry There will be a selection of illustrative stills approximately twenty five in total The scope is broad a consideration of the elements that gave rise to the road movie sub genre how this sub genre corresponds to other traditional genres the thriller the western etc and how various international countries have adopted the road movie to reflect their cultural social political and geographical identities

The Brazilian Road Movie Sara Brandellero,2013-06-15 The Brazilian Road Movie Journeys of Self Discovery explores some of the key trends and films in the development of the road movie in Brazil Through a collection of essays by distinguished scholars and covering a broad range of case studies this text spans Brazilian film production from the silent era to the present day This text examines issues such as the reworking of the genre in a Brazilian context the relationship between documentary and fiction between history politics and cinema gender and race the wilderness and the urban space the national and the transnational The essays consider among other things how the experience of the journey helped develop and was instrumental in defining identities on screen Adopting a variety of approaches the volume considers the significance of the iconography of the road the experience of movement and of life on the move for the representation of Brazil on screen

The Road Movie Neil Archer,2016-01-12 Though often seen as one of America s native cinematic genres the road movie has lent itself to diverse international contexts and inspired a host of filmmakers As analyzed in this study from its most familiar origins in Hollywood the road movie has become a global film practice whether as a vehicle for exploring the relationship between various national contexts and American cinema as a means of narrating different national and continental histories or as a form of individual filmmaking expression Beginning with key films from Depression era Hollywood and the New Hollywood of the late 1960s and then considering its wider effect on world cinemas this volume maps the development and adaptability of an enduring genre studying iconic films along the way

Historical Dictionary of Film Noir Andrew Spicer,2010-03-19 Film noir literally black cinema is the label customarily given to a group of black and white American films mostly crime thrillers made between 1940 and 1959 Today there is considerable dispute about what are the shared features that classify a noir film and therefore which films should be included in this category These problems are partly caused because film noir is a retrospective label that was not used in the 1940s or 1950s by the film industry as a production category and therefore its existence and features cannot be established through reference to trade documents The Historical Dictionary of Film Noir is a comprehensive guide that ranges from 1940 to present day neo noir It consists of a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography a filmography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on every aspect of film noir and neo noir including key films personnel actors cinematographers composers directors producers set designers and writers themes issues influences visual style cycles of films e g amnesiac noirs the representation of the city and gender other forms comics graphic novels television and videogames and noir s presence in world cinema It is an essential reference work for all those interested in this important cultural phenomenon
