Lufkin,2016-01-21 Folk art is now widely recognized as an integral part of the modern Chinese cultural heritage but in the early twentieth century awareness of folk art as a distinct category in the visual arts was new Internationally intellectuals in different countries used folk arts to affirm national identity and cultural continuity in the midst of the changes of the modern era In China artists critics and educators likewise saw folk art as a potentially valuable resource perhaps it could be a fresh source of cultural inspiration and energy representing the authentic voice of the people in contrast to what could be seen as the limited and elitist classical tradition At the same time many Chinese intellectuals also saw folk art as a problem they believed that folk art as it was promoted superstitious and backward ideas that were incompatible with modernization and progress In either case folk art was too important to be left in the hands of the folk educated artists and researchers felt a responsibility intervene to reform folk art and create new popular art forms that would better serve the needs of the modern nation In the early 1930s folk art began to figure in the debates on social role of art and artists that were waged in the pages of the Chinese press the first major exhibition of folk art was held in Hangzhou and the new print movement claimed the print as a popular artistic medium while for the most part declaring its distance from contemporary folk printmaking practices During the war against Japan from 1937 to 1945 educated artists deployed imagery and styles drawn from folk art in morale boosting propaganda images but worried that this work fell short of true artistic accomplishment and pandering to outmoded tastes The questions raised in interaction with folk art during this pivotal period questions about heritage about the social position of art and the exercise of cultural authority continue to resonate into the present day The Economic Logic of Chinese Cultural-Creative Industries Parks Vivian Yuan Yuan,2020-05-21 This book is a novel and inspiring research work on creative industry clusters in China Seldom has literature on CCIPs dealt with the detailed economic logic and operational methods of a CCIP The author not only does a detailed comparison of two business models of Cultural Creative Industries Parks CCIPs using classic qualitative methodology through two case studies Shenzhen OCT LOFT as a Culture Highland model and Guangzhou 289 Art Park as a Modular System model but also proposes a practical 4C model as the business framework for CCIPs This book will be of interest to urbanists scholars of the culture economy creative industries and China scholars Modern Asian Art John Clark,1998-01-01 A seminal publication focusing on the modern art of Japan China India Thailand and Indonesia A significant and challenging contribution to the discussion of the advent of modernism in Asia ARMY 04 Trinh The Vien,2025-08-13 ARMY 04 That scream was so sharp that it could penetrate the window paper it was Feng Ruo Nans scream The surrounding cultivators turned their heads to look Lan Ruo Ting and Shang Shu Qing who had been standing nearby were startled awake Bai Yao who was enjoying the first ray of light was also startled shaking himself and walking towards the door of the bridal chamber Before he could ask the sounds of fighting came from inside the room again Bai Yao frowned after not fighting all night he thought it had calmed down why was there fighting again so early in the morning Before Feng Ruo Nans sharp scream could tear the window paper a figure broke through the
