Literary Authority and the Modern Chinese Writer Wendy Larson,1991 Throughout the twentieth century Chinese writers have confronted the problem of creating a new literary tradition that both maintains the culturally unique aspects of a rich heritage and succeeds in promoting a new modernity In the first book length treatment of the topic Wendy Larson examines the contradictory forms of authority at work in the autobiographical texts of modern Chinese writers and scholars and the way these conflicts helped to shape and determine the manner in which writers viewed themselves their texts and their work Larson focuses on the most famous writers associated with the May Fourth Movement a group most active in the 1920s and 1930s and their fundamental ambivalence about writing She analyzes how their writing paradoxically characterized textual labor as passive negative and inferior to material labor and the more physical political work of social progress and she describes the ways they used textual means to devalue literary labor The impact of China s increasing contact with the West particularly the ways in which Western notions of individualism and democracy influenced Chinese ideologies of self and work is considered Larson also studies the changes in China s social structure notably those linked to the abolition in 1905 of the educational exam system which subsequently broke the link between the mastery of certain texts and the attainment of political power further denigrating the cultural role of the writer

Enduring the Revolution Charles J. Alber, 2001-12-30 An anarchist by temperament the beautiful and talented Ding Ling attempted to find her way in the world alone She had a few female friends and a few significant male others but she rebelled against her family Most importantly she rebelled against the Chinese Communist Party to which she desperately hoped to belong The first part of a comprehensive biography of the major 20th century Chinese author Ding Ling this work draws not only on her memoirs but on numerous secondary sources many of which have become available only in the last two decades Though born into a wealthy family Jiang Bingzi was raised by her mother after the untimely death of her father She went to school in the May 4 era when protest was in the air the radical ideas of Mao were already in print and her idol Lu Xun was making his literary mark In her late teens she renounced her engagement changed her name and fled to Shanghai where she embraced the anarchist movement The loss of her brother and lifelong friend Wang Jianhong and the loss of her significant other Hu Yepin all threw her into various states of depression not to mention her own abduction by the Guomindang Nevertheless Ding Ling wrote her way out of despair and into the public limelight Her first collection of short stories In the Darkness made her famous because of its profound grasp of feminine psychology and its daring treatment of human sexuality But when Ding Ling attempted to dispel the darkness in Yan an she like everyone else was told by Mao in his famous Talks to focus on the light Ding Ling made all the necessary adjustments literary and political She survived the rectification campaign and mastered proletarian fiction Mao loved her novel The Sun Shines on the Sanggan so much that he ranked her third among contemporaries Soon she was traveling to Eastern Europe and to Moscow where she consulted with Soviet notables With the founding of the People's Republic it appeared her star was on the rise This study of Ding Ling and China's literary environment in the first half of the 20th century will be useful to scholars and students of contemporary Chinese history literature and women s studies
