generated Modern Hungarian Culture and the Classics Péter Hajdu, 2024-06-13 Péter Hajdu examines the cultivation of the Classics as an intellectual framework and crucial ingredient of the western aspect of Hungarian national identity. This book approaches the relationship of modern Hungarian culture to classical heritage from the various viewpoints of identity, politics, education, translation, history, scholarship, and its impact on literature. When the Hungarian nation-building project developed ideas of national identity, it necessarily incorporated the historical narrative according to which the Hungarians arrived at their current homeland in the Middle Ages and only later did it adopt European culture. The duplicity of a mostly imagined Asian pagan barbaric or nomadic culture and a Western Christian civilized identity deeply rooted in European culture has played and continues to play a role in the Hungarian discourse. Hajdu also studies the gradual disappearance of classics from the Hungarian school education since the 19th century, which has been accompanied by fervid political debates. However, over this period, translations of classical texts paradoxically became more frequent and popular with the decline of a classical education, even though fewer readers had access to the original texts. Despite this change, the translation strategies tended to remain school-bound. The knowledge of classical literature still leaves traces on Hungarian literature, which Hajdu explores using examples from nineteenth-century novels and contemporary poetry. This book sheds light on a topic of classical reception that has remained largely unexplored in this part of Europe but one which has an incredibly rich history, culture, and literary tradition.

Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom, 2017-11-30 Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world, and Sino-French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone, linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese-speaking world. Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it. They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France, cast French actors, and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don't understand it. They tend to view France as mysterious, sexy, and sophisticated, just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic. As Michelle E. Bloom makes clear, many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross-cultural interplay. Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000, such as Tsai Ming-liang's What Time Is It There?, Hou Hsiao-hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon, and Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress. She views the work of these well-known directors through a Sino-French optic, applying the tropes of métissage or biraciality, intertextuality, adaptation, and remake, translation, and imitation to shed new light on their work. She also calls attention to important lesser-studied films: Taiwanese director Cheng Yu-chieh's Yang Yang, which depicts the up-and-coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed-race beauty, and Emily Tang Xiaobai's debut film Conjugation, which contrasts Paris and post-Tiananmen Square Beijing: the one an incarnation of liberty, the other a place of entrapment. Bloom's insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators. Scholars have long studied Sino-French literature, but this inaugural full-length work on Sino-French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film

MARTIN EDEN (Modern Classics Series) Jack London, 2024-01-16. In Martin Eden, Jack London crafts a semi-autobiographical narrative centered around the titular character, a struggling writer and sailor who grapples with the complexities of individualism, class struggle, and the quest for personal identity. Through a naturalistic style, London immerses readers in the early 20th-century socio-economic landscape of America, where Eden's ambition clashes with societal expectations and romantic idealism. The novel unfolds as a poignant exploration of self-education, artistic aspiration, and the often-painful journey toward self-actualization, reflected in London's rich prose and vivid characterizations. Jack London, a prominent figure in American literature, was no stranger to hardship. Born into poverty, he experienced the stark realities of life on the fringes of society, fueling his passionate advocacy for social reform and the working class. His own struggles as a writer and personal experiences resonated deeply in the character of Martin Eden, embodying London's own aspirations and frustrations as an artist in a rapidly changing world. This autobiographical element lends a raw authenticity to the narrative, revealing the author's profound beliefs in the importance of individual will and the fight against societal constraints. Martin Eden is a compelling read for anyone interested in the tumultuous intersection of art and life. Its exploration of existential themes and the price of ambition is as relevant today as it was over a century ago. Readers will find themselves reflected in Eden's journey making this modern classic an essential addition to any literary collection offering timeless insights into the human condition and the relentless pursuit of one's dreams      Tarot Time Traveller Marcus Katz, Tali Goodwin, 2017-11-08 In the story of tarot nothing is as it first appears to be Throughout the generations personal relationships esoteric practices and cultural beliefs have blended together to form tarot's many layers of meaning and mystery Join authors Marcus Katz and Tali Goodwin as they share reading methods card meanings and spread ideas based on the most important developments in the history of tarot Along the way you'll witness the creation of some of the most influential decks and meet the artists mystics teachers occultists and writers behind them When you delve into tarot's fascinating back story you open yourself to unique perspectives helping you develop your own interpretations of the cards even if they don't always match the current era's ideas Tarot Time Traveller is a guided tour through history providing new insights for your reading practice and deepening your relationship with the cards      Studies in Victorian and Modern Literature William Baker, 2015-07-29 This book is both a celebration of the life and career of the eminent literary scholar critic and journalist John Sutherland and an extension of Sutherland's work in various fields including nineteenth and twentieth century Anglo American literature the publishing industry and its impact upon creativity and literary puzzles With contributions from over twenty five distinguished critics literary journalists and scholars this book goes beyond merely describing Sutherland's work The essayists pay homage to Sutherland while also staking their own critical scholarly claims From investigating the publishing dimension Victorians major and minor the complexities of Dickens and George Eliot the archeology of Pride and Prejudice to examining the implications of Shakespearean souvenirs literary puzzles and Non Victorians the essays offer fresh dimensions to Sutherland's rich career as a professor critic and journalist      Quarterly Bulletin of the Providence Public Library Providence Public Library (R.I.), 1925      Microsociological Perspectives for Environmental Sociology Bradley H.
