Discomfort with the inappropriateness of university curricula has met with increasing calls for disruptive actions to revitalise higher education This book conceived to envision an alternative emancipatory curriculum explores the historical ideological philosophical and theoretical domains of higher education curricula The authors acknowledge that universities have been and continue to be complicit in perpetuating cognitive damage through symbolic violence associated with indifference to the pernicious effects of race categorisation gender inequalities poverty rising unemployment and cultural hegemony as they continue to frame curricula cultures and practices The book contemplates the project of undoing cognitive damage offering glimpses to redesign curriculum in the 21st century The contributors international scholars emergent and expert researchers include different nationalities orientations and positionalities constituting an interdisciplinary ensemble which collectively provides a rich commentary on higher education curriculum as we know it and where we think it could be in the future The edited volume is a catalytic tool for disrupting canonised rituals of practice in higher education It has been a while since a scholarly book so authoritative in its claims and innovative in its concepts threatens to shake up the curriculum field at its foundations Rich in metaphor and meaning the superbly written chapters challenge a field that once more became moribund as we settled sic far too comfortably into accepting handed down frames and fictions about knowledge authority power and agency that imprint cognitive damage on those forced to the margins of schools and universities Disrupting Higher Education Curriculum demonstrates however that it is in fact from those margins of the education enterprise that academics teachers and learners can see more clearly how patterns of thought and action hold us back from placing and experiencing our African humanity at the centre of the curriculum Jonathan Jansen Rector and Vice Chancellor of the University of the Free State South Africa

than cognitive processes In chapters that proceed from infancy to early childhood Simms considers how children live their embodiment coexist with others experience and the spaces and places of their neighborhoods have deeply felt relations to things grasp time intuitively and often in contradiction to adult clock time and are transformed by the mystery of the symbolic order of play and language Simms s approach is particularly informed by the philosophy of Maurice Merleau Ponty which allows for a descriptive and grounded understanding of child experience as well as sophisticated and critical philosophical thinking about human existence in general By respecting and celebrating the magical non dualistic relationship child consciousness has to the world The Child in the World offers readers a unique opportunity to expand their understanding of human existence Students and teachers of psychology and philosophy early childhood educators psychotherapists as well as general readers who are parents of young children will enjoy this fascinating volume
