Rusty Bugles, 1952 The Two Frank Thrings Peter Fitzpatrick, 2012-08-01 They shared a name of course and their physical resemblance was startling And both Frank Thrings were huge figures in the landscape of twentieth century Australian theatre and film But in many ways they could hardly have been more different Frank Thring the father 1882 1936 began his career as a sideshow conjuror and he wheeled dealt and occasionally married his way into becoming the legendary F T impresario speculator and owner of Efftee Films Australia's first talkies studio He built for himself an image of grand patriarchal respectability a sizeable fortune and all the makings of a dynasty Frank Thring the son 1926 1994 squandered the fortune and derailed the dynasty in the course of creating his own persona a unique presence that could make most stages and foyers seem small He won fame playing tyrants in togas in Hollywood blockbusters then suddenly came home to Melbourne to play perhaps his finest role that of Frank Thring actor and personality extraordinaire Central to this role was that Frank the son was unapologetically and outrageously gay Peter Fitzpatrick's compelling dual biography tells the story of two remarkable characters It's a kind of detective story following the tracks of two men who did all they could to cover their tracks and to conceal the self Frank the father used secrecy and sleight of hand as strategies for self protection Frank the son masked a thoroughly reclusive personality with flamboyant self parody It's also the tale of a lost relationship and of the power a father may have had even over a son who hardly knew him
