Handbook for Caring Science William Rosa, Sara Horton-Deutsch, Jean Watson, 2018-09-28. A monumental compendium of Caring Science past, present, and future. This groundbreaking work is an encyclopedic reference on the full spectrum of Human Caring Science. With contributions from highly accomplished scholars and practitioners from six continents, it spans the evolution of Caring Science from its origins 40 years ago through its ongoing innovation and development and into the future. Comprehensive and in depth, this resource brings multigenerational perspectives to Caring Science and demonstrates its ethical nursing applications across cross-cultural settings worldwide. The book's broad scope embodies the paradigm's theoretical foundations, guidance from Caring Science educators and researchers, and practice insights from expert clinicians and administrators. It offers strategies to influence meaningful policy change, integrate principles throughout cross-cultural and global settings, and introduces inspiring voices from luminaries in coaching, Caring Science, creative arts, spirituality, and self-care. The text clearly demonstrates how theories, frameworks, and paradigms are directly integrated into practice, research, and educational settings. Scholarly narratives and discourses on Caring Science will facilitate understanding of how to transform systems with a caring consciousness and ethically informed action. Chapters consistently formatted to promote ease of comprehension include exemplars with reflective questions and references. Key Features: Traces the history of Caring Science and merges it with current and future perspectives. Provides a how-to guide for understanding the integration of theories, frameworks, and paradigms into practice, research, and education. Distills a vision of how to transform systems with a caring consciousness and a commitment to ethically informed action. Enables readers to cross-reference Caring Science leaders across specialties. Illustrates Caring Science practice through case studies, examples, and discourses. Supports hospitals in procuring or maintaining ANCC Magnet certification. Identifies research and practice opportunities for readers to integrate Caring Science into their professional milieu.

Worldviews John Valk, 2021-10-01. This book investigates the concept of worldview in its numerous aspects and how worldviews impact, shape, and influence individuals, communities, societies, and cultures. It explores various worldviews, religious, spiritual, and secular, using a comprehensive approach to highlight their breadth, depth, and scope. John Valk argues that everyone has a worldview and that worldview is often shaped and influenced by individual circumstances and situations. While worldviews have similar structures to one another, they vary in content, including differences in metanarratives, teachings, ethics, and more. In the course of explaining how worldviews respond to life's ultimate and existential challenges, the book poses ontological questions to highlight various worldviews on the nature of being and the human, and epistemological questions pertaining to sources of knowledge and certainty. Inviting readers to reflect on their own worldviews as they explore the worldviews of others Valk also reveals how certain universal worldview beliefs are interpreted in particular contexts Defying Maliseet Language Death Bernard C.

Perley,2011-11-01 Published through the Recovering Languages and Literacies of the Americas initiative supported by the Andrew W Mellon Foundation Today indigenous communities throughout North America are grappling with the dual issues of language loss and revitalization While many communities are making efforts to bring their traditional languages back through educational programs for some communities these efforts are not enough or have come too late to stem the tide of language death which occurs when there are no remaining fluent speakers and the language is no longer used in regular communication The Maliseet language as spoken in the Tobique First Nation of New Brunswick Canada is one such endangered language that will either be revitalized and survive or will die off Defying Maliseet Language Death is an ethnographic study by Bernard C Perley a member of this First Nation that examines the role of the Maliseet language and its survival in Maliseet identity processes Perley examines what is being done to keep the Maliseet language alive who is actively involved in these processes and how these two factors combine to promote Maliseet language survival He also explores questions of identity asking the important question If Maliseet is no longer spoken are we still Maliseet This timely volume joins the dual issues of language survival and indigenous identity to present a unique perspective on the place of language within culture Contemporary Issues in Law Enforcement and Policing Andrew Millie,Dilip K. Das,2008-05-28

Rising terrorism and advances in technology along with new organizational strategies and investigative techniques have stretched the traditional role of the police officer Calls for strong intelligence driven paramilitary policing juxtaposed with a demand for softer community policing leave officers under increased pressure to be tough and Walking This Path Together Jeannine Carrière,2020-07-10T00:00:00Z Walking This Path Together is an edited collection devoted to improving the lives of children and families that come to the attention of child welfare authorities by demonstrating and advocating for socially just child welfare practices In this new updated edition authors provide special consideration to the historical and political context of child welfare in Canada and theoretical ideas and concrete practices that support practitioners educators and students who are looking for anti racist anti oppressive and anti colonial perspectives on child welfare practice

Together, 3rd Edition Gwendolyn Gosek, 2025-04-29T00:00:00Z Canadian child welfare policies and practices have been central to maintaining a settler colonial nation by controlling and managing the childhoods and future lives of children. While ostensibly grounded in the best interests of the child, child welfare policies and practices far too often make the lives of young people more precarious because they are stratified along race and class lines rather than caring for their wellbeing. There have been dire consequences for Indigenous communities but also for Black newcomer non-citizen and poor people who are also disproportionately the primary focus of child welfare. The contributors to this book reveal these unjust conditions so that workers can contribute to the ongoing transformation of child welfare to facilitate child wellbeing. The third edition of Walking This Path Together continues the transformative vision of the first two editions and charts a new way forward. There are several new chapters and authors who focus on Māti kinship protocols, family group conferencing, decolonizing child welfare and the criminalization of newcomers, refugee children and Indigenous youth in care. They demonstrate how to bring forward transformative practices to moving child welfare into a truly new decolonial era. This transformative vision is the path that we are walking.

One-Minute Mindfulness Donald Altman, 2011 The next 60 seconds can change your life for good or bad and it's all about how you live them. This ground-breaking book shows how mindfulness, being present in each moment, will transform your life for the better.

Security, With Care Elizabeth M. Elliott, 2020-05-21T00:00:00Z Restorative justice as it exists in Canada and the U.S. has been co-opted and relegated to the sidelines of the dominant criminal justice system. In Security With Care, Elizabeth M. Elliott argues that restorative justice cannot be actualized solely within the criminal justice system. If it isn't who we are, says Elliott, then the policies will never be sustainable. Restorative justice must be more than a program within the current system; it must be a new paradigm for responding to harm and conflict. Facilitating this shift requires a rethinking of the assumptions around punishment and justice, placing emphasis instead on values and relationships. But if we can achieve this change, we have the potential to build a healthier, more ethical and more democratic society.

From Trauma to Resiliency Shulamit Natan Ritblatt, Audrey Hokoda, 2022-09-28 From Trauma to Resiliency integrates research and practice of trauma-informed care, reviewing the neuroscience of trauma and highlighting relationship-based interventions for diverse populations that have faced multiple traumas. Chapters explore the experiences of oppressed groups that include survivors of abuse, war, poverty, Indigenous youth, Middle Eastern refugee mothers, individuals who identify as sexual and/or gender minorities, SGM and children and youth involved in child welfare, foster care and juvenile justice systems. In each chapter, contributors provide strengths-based, trauma-informed strategies that can be used in clinical settings, school-based programs and in urban communities where food insecurity, limited access to health services and community violence are prevalent. Professionals and students in counseling, social work, psychology, child welfare, education and other programs will come away from the book with culturally affirming, trauma-informed interventions and models of care that promote wellbeing and resilience.
