from scholars from Japan Korea and the Englishspeaking academic world The new scholarship represented by this volume demonstrates that the vast and growing commercial interactions between the countries of eastern Asia have long historical roots The so called opening to Western trade in the mid nineteenth century which is typically seen as the beginning of this process is shown to be rather the reversal of a relatively temporary phase of state consolidation in the long eighteenth century

Across The Green Sea Sanjay Subrahmanyam,2024-07-02 Beginning in the mid fifteenth century the regions bordering the western Indian Ocean the green sea as it was known to Arabic speakers underwent vast transformation An era of commercial and cultural exchange blossomed between the Red Sea and Mecca the Persian Gulf East Africa Kerala and western India In Across the Green Sea Sanjay Subrahmanyam recounts the history of this ocean from a variety of shifting viewpoints He sets the scene with the withdrawal of China s Ming Dynasty and explores how the western Indian Ocean was transformed by the growth and increasing prominence of the Ottoman Empire and the continued spread of Islam into East Africa He examines how several cities including Mecca and the vital Indian port of Surat grew and changed during these centuries when various powers interacted until famines and other disturbances upended the region in the seventeenth century Rather than proposing an artificial model of a dominant centre and its dominated peripheries Across the Green Sea reveals the complexity of a truly dynamic and polycentric system through the use of connected histories a method which he has pioneered

Imagined Geographies Geoffrey C. Gunn,2021-09-03 Imagined Geographies is a pioneering work in the study of history and geography of the pre 1800 world In this book Gunn argues that different regions astride the maritime silk roads were not only interconnected but can also be construed as imagined geographies Taking a grand civilizational perspective five such geographic imaginaries are examined across respective chapters namely Indian Arabic Chinese Japanese and European including an imagined Great South Land Drawing upon an array of marine and other archaeological examples the author offers compelling evidence of the intertwining of political cultural and economic regions across the sea silk roads from ancient times until the seventeenth century Through a thorough analysis of these five geographic imaginaries the author sets aside purely national history and looks at the maritime realm from a broader spatial perspective He challenges the Eurocentric concept of center and periphery and establishes a revisionist view on a decentered world regional history This book will definitely interest history lovers from all around the world who wants to know more about how their forebears viewed their respective region and how their region fits into world history with local uniqueness Gunn takes large themes and makes them understandable He is not afraid to make the grand statement and to look at the sweep of history all in one arc I admire that greatly this is not history for the faint of heart But it is history well done and history that can show the forest from the trees Eric Tagliacozzo John Stambaugh Professor of History Cornell University This is one of the most ambitious and insightful books that I have read on pre Modern maritime Asia The author offers fascinating perspectives on how this vast region was imagined charted and experienced over many centuries That requires mastery of an immense range of scholarship and primary sources His aim is to knit this watery world together into a conceptual whole This mission is accomplished with style and discipline Andrew R Wilson John A van Beuren Chair of Asia Pacific Studies U S Naval War College Catalog of Copyright Entries.
