Private Women, Public Lives

Bárbara O. Reyes, 2010-01-01 Through the lives and works of three women in colonial California Bárbara O. Reyes examines frontier mission social spaces and their relationship to the creation of gendered colonial relations in the Californias She explores the function of missions and missionaries in establishing hierarchies of power and in defining gendered spaces and roles and looks at the ways that women challenged and attempted to modify the construction of those hierarchies roles and spaces Reyes studies the criminal inquiry and depositions of Barbara Gandiaga an Indian woman charged with conspiracy to murder two priests at her mission the divorce petition of Eulalia Callis the first lady of colonial California who petitioned for divorce from her adulterous governor husband and the testimonio of Eulalia Pérez the head housekeeper at Mission San Gabriel who acquired a position of significant authority and responsibility but whose work has not been properly recognized These three women's voices seem to reach across time and place calling for additional more complex analysis and questions Could women have agency in the colonial Californias Did the social structures or colonial processes in place in the frontier setting of New Spain confine or limit them in particular gendered ways And were gender dynamics in colonial California explicitly rigid as a result of the imperatives of the goals of colonization

A New Island Biogeography of the Sea of Cortés

Ted J. Case, Martin L. Cody, Exequiel Ezcurra, 2002 This updated and expanded A New Island Biogeography of the Sea of Cortés first published nearly 20 years ago integrates new and broader studies encompassing more taxa and more complete island coverage The present synthesis provides a basis for further research and exploration in upcoming years of the biologically fascinating Sea of Cortés region The Gulf region is increasingly being exploited for its natural resources by way of marine fisheries and for its stunning natural beauty by way of a burgeoning tourism industry Further the region's human population is increasing apace It is appropriate therefore that this volume discusses these evolving circumstances and the efforts of the Mexican government to regulate and manage them The new Biogeography includes a section on the conservation issues in the Sea of Cortés past accomplishments and conservation needs as yet outstanding This book should be of strong interest to conservation biologists ecologists and evolutionary biologists more generally
