

"Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely and more temperate.
Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease hath all too short a date.-

Non-Elegiac Latin Love Poetry of Late Antiquity Vasileios Pappas, 2025-05-19 For about five hundred years between Ovid's death 17 AD and Maximianus Elegies 6th century AD the genre of love elegy disappears Does this mean that love poetry in general was no longer being written This was certainly not the case Poets continued to compose love poetry merely in other forms than elegy This book deals with non elegiac Latin love poetry of Late Antiquity It is the first monograph to focus on the metaliterary interpretation of four non elegiac poetic works the Pervigilium Veneris Ausonius Bissula Reposianus De concubitu Martis et Veneris and the Aegritudo Perdicae The book contains all the required information about these poems including their date authorship structure and literary tradition However its content is predominantly original as it examines subjects that have not previously been discussed in the past These include a the generic interaction between the poems host genre and several guest genres that are present within them b the metaliterary discourse developed in several passages which reveals the metapoetic self consciousness of their poets c their hidden demands for the innovation of love poetry and d their allusive comments on the conservatism of this era Poetry Harriet Monroe, 1919 Love, Poetry, and Immortality: Luminous Insights of the World's Great Thinkers William Gerber, 2022-07-11 This book explores and illustrates the individuating characteristics and the interrelationships of love poetry and literary immortality such immortality that is as writers may win in the sense of being long remembered and appreciated by future readers From the book's numerous quotations of glittering literary passages it is evident that love is often expressed in poetry and that many authors especially those writing about love have expressed the winsome hope that their works would be greatly cherished by later generations Part One of the book illustrates by passages of matchless poetry the joys and perils of love and other outstanding features of love Part Two outlines the history of expressions by writers in many cultures of their confidence or hope that their works will make them immortal Big River Poetry Review Volume 1 John Lambremont, 2013-07-23 This review is no slender paperback Big River Poetry Review Volume 1 is a blockbuster 9 x 12 coffee table book with 185 pages of poems A magnificent read says Joan Colby THIS IS AS GOOD AS IT GETS Including poems by Pam Uschuk Phillip Fried Joan Colby William Doeski Sheila E Murphy Peycho Kanev Sybill Pittman Estess Larry Thomas Robert Lietz Martin Willitts Jr and many other outstanding poets this is the first print issue of Big River Poetry Review an on line and print journal of fine original contemporary poetry compiled edited and published in Baton Rouge Louisiana see bigriverpoetry.com In this issue we are printing all the poems we published on line between the Review's inception in late May 2012 and the end of December 2012

The World's Best Poetry ...: Love; introductory essay: The future of poetry, by J.V. Cheney John Vance Cheney, Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, Charles Francis Richardson, Francis Hovey Stoddard, John Raymond Howard, 1904

The Leaflet, 1913 Shards of Love María Rosa Menocal, 1994 With the Spanish conquest of Islamic Granada and the expulsion of the Jews from Spain the year 1492 marks the exile from Europe of crucial strands of medieval culture It also becomes a symbolic marker for the expulsion of a diversity in language and grammar that was disturbing to the Renaissance sensibility of purity and stability In rewriting Columbus's narrative of his voyage of that year Renaissance historians rewrote history as was often their practice to purge it of an offending vulgarity The cultural fragments left behind following this exile form the core of Shards of Love as Mar a Rosa Menocal confronts the difficulty of writing their history It is in exile that Menocal locates the founding conditions for philology as a discipline that loves origins and for the genre of love songs that philology reveres She crosses the boundaries both temporal and geographical of 1492 to recover the original medieval culture with its Mediterranean mix of European Arabic and Hebrew poetics The result is a form of literary history more lyrical than narrative and Menocal persuasively demonstrates more appropriate to the Middle Ages than to the revisionary legacy of the Renaissance In discussions ranging from Eric Clapton's adaption of Nizami's Layla and Majnun to the uncanny ties between Jim Morrison and Petrarch Shards of Love deepens our sense of how the Middle Ages is tied to our own age as it expands the history and meaning of what we call Romance philology

Love Poems of Ghanānand, 1991 The poetry of Ghananand depicts love in all its aspects Breaking away from the orthodox poetic traditions he gave Hindi poetry spontaneity and freshness and brought it nearer to life He fell in love with Sujan a courtesan in the darbar of emperor Mohammad Shah Having refused to sing when asked by the Emperor he agreed when requested by her

Love and Women in Early Chinese Fiction Daniel Hsieh, 2009-03-02 In traditional China upper class literati were inevitably strongly influenced by Confucian doctrine and rarely touched upon such topics as love and women in their writings It was not until the mid Tang a generation or two after the An Lushan rebellion that literary circles began to engage in overt discussion of the issues of love and women through the use of the newly emerging genres of zhiguai and chuanqi fiction The debate was carried out with an unprecedented enthusiasm since the topics were considered to be the key to understanding the crisis in Chinese civilization This book examines the repertoire of chuanqi and zhiguai written during the Six Dynasties and Tang periods and analyzes the key themes topics and approaches found in these tales which range from expressions of male fantasy sympathy fear and anxiety to philosophical debate on the place of the feminine in patriarchal Chinese society Many of these stories reflect tensions between masculine and feminine aspects of civilization as seen for example in the conflict of male aspiration and female desire as well as the ultimate longing for reconciliation of these divisions These stories form a crucial chapter in the history of love in China and would provide much of the foundation for further explorations during the late imperial period as seen in seminal works such as The Peony Pavilion and Dream of the Red Chamber
