Lucy In Mourning:

Lucy in Mourning Brad Field, 2005-08 On her honeymoon in Brussels in 1958 Lucy's husband is killed by a hit and run driver. When her husband's family arrives, Lucy is the only one who speaks enough French to deal with the police, the hotels, the funeral arrangements. At a late moment in the airport, she notes a clue that her husband's death was no accident but murder. She lets the family get on the plane and stays to investigate. Amid some wry comedy, she deals with the first suspects who find her a fascinating beauty for her tiresome irrelevance. And they all have alibis. She finds from Brad Field's earlier novel Lucy Musing the only man in Europe she can trust: old Hertzig, a courier for a Swiss bank to help her with the German and the Italian. Lucy slowly re-constructs herself. A bereaved bride in mourning clothes and veil becomes a calculating executive of action.

Mourning Companion Animals Susan Dowd Stone, 2024-04-11 Mourning Companion Animals is a guidebook for mental health clinicians searching for effective compassionate resources to guide their clients through the often devastating experience of animal companion loss. Chapters offer powerful and comprehensive strategies to heal animal companion loss based in sound evidenced-based theoretical perspectives. The included author-generated inventory, the animal companion bereavement questionnaire, provides further assistance in clinician exploration of each client's unique bond with their lost companion. The book's content is the result of more than twenty-five years of extensive work within the human-animal bond clinical training in the referenced therapies and application of major psychodynamic theories.

Buried Communities Kurt Fosso, 2004-01-01 Offers an explanation for the poet's mysterious and longstanding preoccupation with death and grief.

Adult Attachment and Couple Psychotherapy Christopher Clulow, 2012-12-06 Attachment theory has triggered an explosion of research into family relationships and has provided a conceptual basis for the work of practitioners. Adult Attachment and Couple Psychotherapy brings research and practice perspectives to bear on the adult couple relationship and provides a framework for assessing and working with secure and insecure partnerships. Divided into three parts, the book looks at what is meant by secure and insecure attachment in the couple, describes how theory and research have been applied to practice, and how practice has added to the understanding of the complex problems that couples bring to therapy. It examines the significance of training and the organisation of work for effective practice with couples. Using vivid illustrations from clinical and community work, Adult Attachment and Couple Psychotherapy offers stimulating reading for all those involved in this field who wish to re-assess their models of practice.

Pet Projects Elizabeth Young, 2019-12-15 In Pet Projects, Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth-century fiction, taxidermy, and the visual arts with a first-person reflection on her own scholarly journey. Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders, a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young's own experience of a beloved animal's illness, this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism. Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders's novels and widening outward to include fiction, nonfiction, photography, and taxidermy.

She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders's Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal. She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery. Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women. Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race, ethnicity and national identity. Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film. Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies. With a lively first person voice that highlights experiences usually concealed in academic studies by scholarly discourse such as detours, zigzags, roadblocks and personal experience, this unique and innovative book will delight animal enthusiasts and academics in the fields of animal studies, gender studies, American studies and Canadian studies. Death and Dying John F.

Szabo, 2009-11-02 While it can be traced to the 1700s, the term thanatology has gained traction in recent decades to refer to the study of death. Because of the breadth of the published material and the challenges of discovery in large bibliographic databases and catalogs, finding and identifying monographic material on death, dying, grief and bereavement can be extremely challenging. Although there have been several bibliographical resources published on thanatology, those titles were incomplete, limited in scope or leaned heavily toward one area of the field. In Death and Dying: An Annotated Bibliography of the Thanatological Literature, John F. Szabo provides more than 2,200 citations of monographs on the science and study of death and dying. Among the areas this volume addresses are the psychological, philosophical and attitudinal aspects of coping and dealing with the burdens of caregiving and working in the helping professions; instructional and educational topics for practitioners, primarily health care providers; cultural differences in bereavement rituals and grief, mourning and loss. In addition, notable titles on or relating to death and dying in popular culture, death themes in literature, methods of death or specific ethical policy or public issues are also included when they contribute important information to subject areas on which the book focuses. This book will be helpful to students, researchers, academics, caregivers, health care professionals, psychologists, social workers and anyone with an interest in death, dying, bereavement or the care of the terminally ill. Half Hours with Representative Novelists of the Nineteenth Century, Being Passages from Their Works with Brief Biographies and Introductions and a Critical Essay Mackenzie Bell, 1927 Representative Novelists of the Nineteenth Century Mackenzie Bell, 1927 Such Silver Currents Monty Chisholm, 2021-01-01 This is the first biography of a mathematical genius and his literary wife, their wide circle of well known intellectual and artistic friends and through them of the age in which they lived.
