National Monuments and Nationalism in 19th Century Germany Hans A. Pohlsander,2008 No century in modern European history has built monuments with more enthusiasm than the 19th Of the hundreds of monuments erected those which sprang from a nation wide initiative and addressed themselves to a nation rather than part of a nation we may call national monuments Nelson s Column in London or the Arc de Triomphe in Paris are obvious examples In Germany the 19th century witnessed a veritable flood of monuments many of which rank as national monuments These reflected and contributed to a developing sense of national identity and the search for national unity they also document an unsuccessful effort to create a genuinely German style They constitute a historical record quite apart from aesthetic appeal or ideological message As this historical record is examined German national monuments of the 19th century are described and interpreted against the background of the nationalism which gave birth to them      Ludwig II Markus Spangenberg,2015-10-15      The Dream King Wilfrid Blunt,Michael Petzet,1970      Requiem of the Swan Prince A R Valeson,2021-02-18 Ludwig II led a life immersed in dreams and fantasy through which he found comfort from the loneliness and disillusionment of kingship He sought to bring to life the ideal world of medieval chivalry and folklore carried away by the romantic waves of Wagner s music building his castles in the sky and a legacy of otherworldly wonder This surreal tale seeks to rekindle the world which the author believes had dwelt in the king s heart a psychological novel taking place between life and death reality and dreams madness and sanity Forever pursuing the mysteries of the grail and basking in the fading light of ancient heroes Ludwig further distanced himself from the duties and oppressive bureaucracy of his station grasping at beautiful shadows and flames until they engulf the emptiness and longing of his reclusive soul for a forbidden immortal love that survives only in the grotto of ideals      The Romance Of King Ludwig II Of Bavaria Frances A.
